FORDHAM AT LINCOLN SQUARE

The Fordham University School of Law is located in the new Lincoln Square campus of Fordham University in the center of Manhattan.

The new Law School building is located on West 62nd Street between Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues. This site is one block West of Broadway on 62nd Street. It is two blocks West of Central Park and three blocks Northwest of Columbus Circle. It is ideally accessible from the 59th Street-Columbus Circle stations of the IRT-Broadway-7th Avenue and the Independent 6th and 8th Avenue subway lines.

Fordham University School of Law stands at the Southern end of the new Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. North of the new Fordham Campus, will extend fourteen landscaped acres containing the new Metropolitan Opera, Philharmonic Hall, a Repertory Theatre and Library-Museum, the New York State Theatre, the Julliard School and Music and Recital Hall and Damroseh Park with a band shell for open air concerts.
INFORMATION

The Admission's Office of the Law School, in Room 103, 140 West 62nd Street, is open during every business day of the year. Information regarding the requirements of the school for entrance and for its degree and information regarding admission to the bar, may be obtained upon application.

ENDOWED CHAIRS
THE ALPIN J. CAMERON CHAIR OF LAW
The Alpin J. Cameron Chair of Law was founded by the late Alpin
W. Cameron of Philadelphia to honor the memory of his father, a member of the Class of 1872 Fordham College. The Chair was instituted at the Law School on February 1, 1957. The first incumbent was Professor George W. Bacon. He was succeeded by Professor Thomas J. Snee. The present holder of the Chair is Professor Leonard F. Manning.

THE AGNES AND IGNA TIUS M. WILKINSON
CHAIR OF LAW
The Agnes and Ignatius M. Wilkinson Chair of Law was created by the will of the late Dean Ignatius M. Wilkinson. The Chair was instituted on November 18, 1961 at the dedication of the Fordham University School of Law building at Lincoln Square. The first incumbent is Dean William Hughes Mulligan.
The School of Law

Fordham University is a Catholic institution conducted by the Jesuits. It began as St. John's College. It was founded by Archbishop Hughes upon the old Rose Hill farm at Fordham and formally opened on St. John the Baptist's Day, June 24, 1841. On April 10, 1846, an act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature of the State of New York, which granted it power to "confer such literary honors, degrees and diplomas as are usually granted by any university, college or seminary of learning in the United States."

On June 21, 1904, with the consent of the Regents of the University of the State of New York, the Board of Trustees authorized the opening of the School of Law, the first classes in which were held in the fall of 1905.

On March 7, 1907, the Regents of the University of the State of New York amended the charter of St. John's College, Fordham, so that the corporate name of the college was changed to "Fordham University" and so that its Law Department was given the name of "Fordham University School of Law."

In the midst of New York City, at the heart of the legal, commercial and financial capital of the world, Fordham's School of Law stands at the southern end of the landscaped plaza which will open upon the cultural center of the nation, Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. Spreading to the north, through fourteen tree-lined acres, will be the new Metropolitan Opera House, the Philharmonic Hall, the Juilliard School of Music, a student theatre, a Repertory Theatre, a Dance-Operetta Theatre and the Library-Museum of the Performing Arts.

In this setting of park and plaza spaciousness, unfettered by the rigid gridiron of New York City streets, the Fordham Law School building, completely air-conditioned, will blend with the architectural beauty of its surroundings and yet retain its own functionalism as a school of law. The Law School building includes adequate classrooms, seminar rooms, administrative, Law Review and faculty offices. It also houses a Moot Court room, commodious lounges for students, faculty and alumni, and a library, complete with all modern equipment, capable of handling in excess of 250,000 volumes. The Moot Court room and the law library wing have been designed for spaciousness, beauty and utility.
PURPOSE OF THE SCHOOL AND SYSTEM OF INSTRUCTION

The School of Law considers itself a community of scholars within the University, enjoying and perpetuating the heritage of Jesuit interest in the law and legal education. The faculty of the School of Law manifests in its teaching its belief in God as a source of all law. It recognizes and believes in the Natural Law, and adheres in its teaching to the principles of the Natural Law.

The School of Law conceives its primary purpose to be the preparation of students for the practice of law and the stimulation of their interest in legal scholarship. This contemplates not simply the training of men and women qualified as legal technicians but more importantly their education as lawyers fully aware of their professional responsibilities. The School of Law recognizes that it is training its students for service not only in the representation of clients but in the making, interpreting and administering of the laws which affect the nation, state and municipality. The School of Law recognizes also a continuing obligation to be of service to its alumni and to the legal profession generally as the law continues its inevitable expansion and development.

The School offers a practical and scientific professional education in law. The curriculum includes a study of the principles of general jurisprudence, of the common and statute law of the United States, of the system of equity jurisprudence and, recognizing that a better understanding of the present can be acquired from a study of the past, of the historical and philosophical origins of law and of pleading and procedure at common law as well as under modern codes.

The course for the degree of Bachelor of Laws covers three academic years in the day division and four academic years in the evening division.

The case system of study is primarily used, carefully selected collections of cases being employed as the basis of instruction. The teacher and the students discuss the assigned materials critically and comparatively, both with respect to the facts and decisions reached and the rules and principles of law involved. Thus the students are trained in legal analysis and accurate reasoning, while at the same time they are acquiring familiarity with the principles of law and their development through the use of the actual decisions of the courts. The skills used by the lawyer in counselling clients, in drafting agreements, statutes and other legal documents, in trying cases, in arguing appeals and in legal research and legal writing are taught and practiced in class, in Moot Court competitions and on the Fordham Law Review to the fullest extent an academic atmosphere inspires and academic limitations allow.
The School recognizes the fact that a grasp of the broad principles of common law is essential for the well-equipped lawyer and aims to train its students so that they may be qualified to practice law in any common law jurisdiction.

A regrettable phenomenon of our times in many centers of legal training is the complete separation of law from morality. A well-grounded lawyer, especially if he is to be equipped to be a leader in public affairs, should have inculcated in him a sound philosophy of law. To this end, a comprehensive course in Historical and Analytical Jurisprudence is given. Thus due consideration is given to the ethical and historical aspects of the problems with which the philosophy of law is concerned and to the traditional scholastic and American viewpoint on the ultimate basis of civil authority and limitations on the power of the state.

It is believed that the courses of the School are so arranged as to unite a sound training in the fundamental principles of the law with a training in the practical application of these principles to actual legal work.

ACCREDITATION
The Law School is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is on the approved list of the American Bar Association. Fordham University is a member of the Council of Higher Educational Institutions in New York City.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION
The School of Law is open to men and women. No discrimination is made on the ground of race or religious belief. Applicants for degrees must be at least eighteen years of age upon entering the first year class and must be of good character.

Every applicant must be a graduate of a college or university approved by the University of the State of New York and must present a certificate that he holds an accredited degree conferred after satisfactory completion of a four-year college course together with a full transcript of his scholastic record.

Where the applicant at the time of forwarding his transcript has not completed all of the college work on which he seeks admission, a transcript of record to the end of his last completed term may be furnished and the transcript for the term which he is then attending is to be transmitted immediately after his completion of the work thereof.

As a prerequisite for admission, an applicant must take the Law School Admission Test. Information about this examination may be obtained at the Admissions Office or by writing to Law School Admission Test, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J.
Applicants taking the test should request that their score be reported to the Fordham University School of Law. Results will also be sent to the applicant and such other law schools as he may designate.

No special preparation for the test is necessary, as it is intended to measure intellectual capacity and aptitude rather than knowledge of particular subject-matter. The test should preferably be taken before formal application for admission to the School of Law.

Applicants for admission will be accepted on the basis of their presumptive fitness to pursue the study of law with success as disclosed by their college records, their scores on the Law School Admission Test, and the information as to character and fitness contained in the statement required to be filed by all applicants, as well as such other data as may be available or required.

Any applicant who has attended any other law school and who either has been required to withdraw therefrom or who is ineligible to continue without condition in regular course therein by reason of deficiency in scholarship, or otherwise, will not be admitted to this School.

Applicants whose degrees are not registered by the State Education Department of New York as acceptable to admit the holders thereof to law study, must obtain a Law Student Qualifying Certificate from that department. Those who meet the School's requirements for admission should have no difficulty in procuring such certificate where necessary.

ADVANCED STANDING

An applicant who has satisfied all of the entrance requirements for regular first year students, and in addition has completed successfully one or more years of law study in a law school maintaining standards satisfactory to this School and duly registered by the University of the State of New York, and who is eligible to return to such law school in regular course, may be admitted to advanced standing. The amount of credit which will be given in such a case will depend upon the standards of the school and the quantitative and qualitative record of the student therein. Generally advanced standing will not be granted beyond the second year in the day course or the third year in the evening course.

STUDIES REQUIRED FOR DEGREE

The required course for the degree of Bachelor of Laws in the day division of the School extends over three academic years, in all of which at least twelve periods of classroom instruction per week are required. Students entering this division are expected to be able to devote substantially all of their working time to law study. The required course for the degree of Bachelor of Laws in the evening division of the School extends over four academic years.

The work of the four years in the evening course equals that required in the three years of the day course. The class schedules in the evening course are so arranged that the student is usually not required to attend classes in excess of four evenings every week.

Every candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Laws will be required to take all of the courses prescribed in the curriculum in the First and Second Years. In the Third Year of the day division and the Third and Fourth Years of the evening division part of the courses are prescribed and part are elective. A sufficient number of the latter courses, including at least one of the Practice courses, must be elected by the student to make up with prescribed courses the minimum number of hours required each year.

A student upon making the necessary arrangements with the Admissions Office, including payment of the additional cost, may take at least one additional elective course per semester, provided there be no conflict with other courses elected or prescribed.

REGISTRATION

Applicants for admission to the School may apply by mail or they may appear in person at the Admissions Office at the law school at Lincoln Square to fill out the necessary statement and application on the School form and to file the required credentials. The Director of Admissions will mail forms on request.

The Admissions Office will receive applications for the fall term from the previous November 1st. All applications must be accompanied by a ten dollar application fee. This fee is not refundable in any event and is not creditable against tuition or other charges.

As the School limits the number in every session, and as time is usually required for consideration of the application as well as to procure the necessary credentials and records, early application for admission is desirable.

Students will not be registered under abbreviated or colloquial forms of recognized names. The registered name of the student will be entered on all certificates and degrees of the School, except in case of obvious error, or where the student shall have filed with the School a duly certified copy of an order of a court of competent jurisdiction permitting a change of name, and proof, satisfactory to the School, of compliance with the terms, if any, of such order.
All students already enrolled in the School must register personally at the Admissions Office prior to the commencement of the school year. Students eligible to enter the third and fourth year classes must appear for this purpose on the second Thursday preceding the opening of classes between 9 A.M. and 5 P.M. Students eligible to enter the second year class must appear for this purpose on the second Friday preceding the opening of classes between the same hours. Any student who fails to appear as above required will not be admitted to classes without the special permission of the Dean.

DISCIPLINE

The continuance upon the rolls and the graduation of each student, the awarding of academic credits, and the granting of any certificate or degree are strictly subject to the disciplinary powers of the University. The University reserves the right in its discretion and without stating any reason, at any time to cancel a student’s registration, or to refuse to award academic credits, or to deny a certificate or a degree.

The disciplinary authority of the University is vested in the President of the University in such cases as he deems proper, and, subject to the reserved powers of the President, in the deans or other officers upon whom jurisdiction may be from time to time conferred.

HOURS OF INSTRUCTION

The classes in the day division are scheduled between the hours of 9:30 A.M. and 5 P.M. on every weekday except Saturday.

In the evening division classes will be held in the evening on every weekday except Wednesday and Saturday, commencing at 6 o’clock. Certain elective courses open to day or evening students or both may be scheduled for Wednesday evening or Saturday morning.

Once registered in either a day or evening division of the School, a student may not transfer to the other division.

The School reserves the right to change the hours of classes at any time in the discretion of the Faculty.

Class schedules are published at the beginning of each term.

ATTENDANCE REGULATIONS

1. Every student must occupy the seat assigned him. Otherwise an absence will be charged against the student’s record even though he be present.

2. Excessive absence during the year bars the student from examinations and cancels all credit for the year’s work.
3. Unexcused absence from more than half the lectures in any course bars the student from examination in or attendance credit for such course, even though the student’s aggregate absence for the year is not excessive within Rule 2. In such case a failure in the course will be entered on the student’s record.

4. Death in the student’s immediate family or the serious illness of the student is cause for excuse of absence in the Dean’s discretion provided the total of previous absences excused and unexcused plus the period of absence for which excuse is sought is not so excessive as in the Dean’s opinion to prevent a certification of good and regular attendance of the student as required by Court Rule.

5. Where absence is sought to be excused for illness, a certificate of the attending physician establishing the fact to the Dean’s satisfaction must be filed immediately upon the student’s return. This should contain (1) the date of commencement and termination of the illness; (2) a statement of its general nature and (3) the physician’s certification that the student was prevented thereby from attending lectures.

6. Students are advised to keep accurate records of their absences, as the Admissions Office will not issue any warning to them prior to their exclusion in the event of excessive absence as aforesaid.

7. The number of absences charged against a student on the official records is conclusive in all cases except where obvious clerical error appears.

8. Excessive absences under Rule 2: Day Division, 31 hours of unexcused absence; First and Second Year of the Evening Division, 21 hours of unexcused absence; Third and Fourth Year of the Evening Division, 26 hours of unexcused absence.

EXAMINATIONS AND GRADES

Written examinations are held at the end of every term in all subjects completed therein and as essential parts thereof. Classroom work, so far as practicable, is also a determinant of general standing.

Examinations for all classes will begin at 4 P.M. every day during the examination periods except on Saturdays when they will begin at 2 P.M. Excessive absences from lectures will bar the student from examination.

Students must present themselves for examination at the examination held immediately upon completion of every subject unless excused by the Dean. Omission to do so will constitute a failure of such examination by the student.

The standing of students will be indicated by the letters A, B, C, D, and F, signifying Excellent, Good, Fair, Poor and Failure respectively. A paper of exceptional merit will be marked A+.
A grade of D or better constitutes a passing mark in any subject.

To continue in good scholastic standing, however, a student must maintain a weighted average grade of at least C in every scholastic year. Any student who fails to do so will not be permitted to continue in the School or to be a candidate for degree.

In case a student is permitted to defer an examination, he must take the next examination given in the subject. In the meantime, if on the examinations taken by him his weighted average is at least C, he may be allowed to continue conditionally in the School, subject to his maintaining at least said weighted average grade when the deferred examination is taken. If on the examinations taken by him his weighted average grade is less than C, he will be excluded from the School unless and until on taking the deferred examination his weighted average grade is brought up to at least C.

Failed or omitted examinations aggregating in the year-hour value more than one quarter of the required work of any year, will constitute a failed year irrespective of the weighted average grade obtained by the student.
In such case the student will not be permitted to take any re-examination in the failed subjects or to continue in the School or to be a candidate for degree.

Failed or omitted examinations aggregating in year-hour value not more than one quarter of the required work of any year may be retaken at the next regular examinations only, except in the case of subjects in the final year of the course in which conditioned examinations are held on the five days immediately following Labor Day. If again failed or omitted, the student will be required to repeat the subject.

Any student who fails to pass or omits to take the first examination offered in a course required to be repeated as aforesaid will not be allowed to take any further examination therein, or to continue in the School or to be a candidate for degree.

Where the content of a course, in which a student has failed or deferred examination to take, has changed prior to giving the examination which the student takes therein, the student will be required to prepare himself on the altered content of the course. Should the course be omitted so that o examination is given thereafter in the same, the student may be required to take an additional course and to pass an examination therein in lieu of the omitted course.

No day student will be permitted to enter the third year class with any failed first year course outstanding against him; no evening student will be permitted to enter the fourth year class with any failed first or second year course outstanding against him.
HONORS

A student, who attains a weighted average of 85% or better for the academic year, is honored by being placed on the Dean's List for that year. A student who completes all requirements for the degree with a cumulative weighted average of 87% will receive the degree of Bachelor of Laws cum laude; one who has a cumulative weighted average of 92% will receive the degree of Bachelor of Laws magna cum laude; and one who has a cumulative weighted average of 95% or higher will receive the degree of Bachelor of Laws summa cum laude.

The Honors of the Graduating Class are awarded to the student in each of the three sections who attains the highest cumulative average for the three or four years of the course.

PRIZES

THE FRANCES THADDEUS WOLFF PRIZE. Mrs. Henry J. Wolff, a graduate of the school, has donated $300 for three awards of $100 each to that member of each session of the senior class who has attained the highest weighted average in his studies in the senior year.

SENIOR PRIZES. In the Graduating class the student attaining the second highest weighted average in his studies throughout the year will be awarded a prize of fifty dollars ($50.00).

SCHOOL PRIZES. In all First Year Classes, Second Year Classes and Third Year Evening Class, the student attaining the highest weighted average in his studies throughout the year will be awarded a prize of fifty dollars ($50.00).

THE CHAPIN PRIZE. A prize consisting of the income of the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000), established by the will of Mrs. Mary Knox Chapin, widow of Professor H. Gerald Chapin, who for many years and until his death was a member of the faculty of the School, is awarded annually to that graduate of the School who has attained the highest weighted average in his studies throughout the full course in the School.

CLASS OF 1911 PRIZE. The Class of 1911, on the occasion of its Silver Jubilee, established a prize consisting of the yearly income of the sum of $1,500, to be awarded annually for the best essay submitted by a student in the senior class of the Law School on a legal subject to be designated annually by the Dean. In the event that in any year no essay submitted is deemed worthy of the award, the income of the fund for that year is devoted to the purchase of books for the law library.

BAKER, VOORHIS PRIZE. A set of Carmody Wait's New York Practice is presented annually by Baker, Voorhis and Co. to the graduate who excels in the course in the New York Practice and Procedure.
Fordham Law Alumni Association Medals in Constitutional Law. Three gold medals, the gift of the Fordham Law Alumni Association, are awarded to those members of the graduating class who excel in Constitutional Law in their particular sections.

George W. Bacon Award. A plaque and certificates are awarded annually by the National Legal Fraternity of Gamma Eta Gamma to those students who are adjudged by the Faculty Moot Court Adviser to have excelled in Moot Court competition, both trial and appellate.

Prizes of the Edward Thompson Company. These prizes are as follows: (1) A set of Modern Legal Forms to be presented to that student, who in the opinion of the faculty, in his final year has manifested most improvement over his previous year. (2) A set of Modern Legal Forms to be awarded to that student who, in the opinion of the faculty, in his second year has manifested most improvement over his first year.

Prizes of the West Publishing Company. These prizes are as follows: (1) Each year the American Law Book Company awards one selected title of Corpus Juris Secundum to a student in each year who, in the opinion of the Faculty Committee on Prizes, has made the most significant contribution toward over-all legal scholarship. (2) Each year the West Publishing Company awards a selected title from the Hornbook Series to the student in each year who achieves the highest scholastic average in his year.

The United States Law Week Award. A year's subscription to the United States Law Week is awarded by the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., of Washington, D.C., to the graduating student who is adjudged by a committee of the faculty to have made the most satisfactory scholastic progress in his final year.

"American Jurisprudence" Prizes. The Joint Publishers of "American Jurisprudence," Bancroft-Whitney of San Francisco, California and The Lawyers Co-operative Publishing Company of Rochester, New York, have presented to the school separately bound encyclopedia articles on 19 subjects. These are awarded to the highest ranking student in each subject, and the selection of the winners is determined by the professors teaching the respective courses.

Lawyers Title Award. A prize of $100 and a Certificate of Award is awarded to the student attaining the highest grade in Real Property by the Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation of Richmond, Virginia.

Williams Press Official Reports Award. To the member of the graduating class, selected by the Faculty, who resides in and intends to practice in New York State, who maintains the highest standing in Contracts, Equity, Evidence, Real Property and Torts: A complete set of the New York, Appellate Division and Miscellaneous Reports, 2d Series, together with a one year’s subscription to the Official Reports including the Advance Sheets and Session Law pamphlets. Donated by William Press, Inc.

The Guild of Catholic Lawyers, Inc. Prize. One-hundred-dollar government bond to be awarded to student who attains highest grade in Jurisprudence.

1. Maurice Wormser Award. A plaque and certificates are awarded annually by the Student Bar Association of Fordham Law School to those four students who are adjudged to have excelled in Appellate Moot Court competition presided over by members of the judiciary and of the Bar.

Guaranteed Title Company Award. A prize of $100 and a Certificate of Award is awarded annually, by the Guaranteed Title Company of New York City to the Student who writes the best article based upon legal research in the field of Real Property. The subjects are to be approved and the winner selected by a faculty committee, composed of professors teaching the courses in Real Property.

Admission to the Bar

Some states, for example, Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Texas require that persons undertaking the study of law with a view toward practicing in those states register as candidates for the bar when they begin their study or prior to such study. Each applicant for admission to the School is advised to investigate the requirements of the state in which he intends to practice. The Director of Admissions will furnish on request the address of the particular state agency of which inquiry should be made. Timely fulfillment of these requirements for practice in the aforementioned states is essential and each student should complete his registration before classes begin.

New York State does not require registration prior to the commencement of law school.

Graduates of the School who are citizens of the United States over twenty-one years of age and are actual residents of New York State, or who intend to become residents before the date of the examination, and intend in good faith to maintain such actual residence for at least six months prior to applying for admission to the Bar of this State, are eligible to take the New York State Bar Examination.

Under the revised rules of the Court of Appeals of New York, effective March 1, 1955 and amended April 1, 1963, candidates passing bar examination are eligible for admission to practice upon satisfying the requirements of the Committee on Character and Fitness in the judicial department having jurisdiction of the candidate’s application for admission.
The capacity and promise of a law school is, in great part, measured by its library. The School's library—in architecture, in decor, in functionalism—is the product of years of research, designing, testing and redesigning to determine how best to serve legal scholarship within the law school and among its alumni. Its east wall of glass overlooks a large landscaped green; the main reading room is designed to provide spaciousness and comfort and to encourage research and study.

A balconyed reading area surrounds two sides of the main reading room. On the north side are lawyer's rooms, a microfilm room and there are, interspersed among the stacks, carrels for individual study. The book stacks extending through five levels, are easily accessible. An auxiliary reading room occupying over five thousand square feet is planned for the lower level of the library building.

The library contains over seventy thousand volumes. In it will be found an adequate collection of American, English, Canadian materials, International law and foreign law as well as the complete National Reporter System, the state reports antecedent thereto in substantially all states, the statutes of all the several states, citators and state and regional digests. In addition there is available an extensive collection of textbooks, treatises, legal periodicals and the standard encyclopedias. Thus the student has at his command an adequate working and research collection.

The library is open daily during the school year to students of the School of Law and its alumni, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., except on Saturdays when it is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

BOOKS AND BOOK STORE

The University book store maintains a temporary branch in the basement of the Law School building. It is open for a limited period immediately before and immediately subsequent to the commencement of classes in each semester. Store hours are announced from time to time by the Director of Admissions. The store sells required casebooks and also texts, legal pads, loose-leaf fillers, pens, pencils, ink, brief bags, keys, rings and stationery.

It is estimated that new books will cost approximately $90. per year in the day division and approximately $70. per year in the evening division.

CAFETERIA

A cafeteria is located on the ground floor of the building. It has a serving and table capacity to accommodate one hundred and twenty.
NON-CATHOLIC STUDENTS

Students of Fordham University who are not of the Catholic faith are invited to join their fellows in profiting by the full program of their college or school. However, they are not required to assist at Catholic religious services nor to attend classes in Catholic theology.

STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

Fordham is a member of the American Law Student Association, which is affiliated with the American Bar Association and which maintains a Student Bar Association in the Law School. The students who are members of this Association assist in orientation and manage trial and appellate moot courts and social functions. The frequency of the moot courts, closely supervised by three of the members of the Law School faculty, affords ample opportunity for each student to participate as a juror, witness, bailiff, party or attorney. The Student Bar Association also published a Law School newspaper, the "Lexagram," and a Student Directory and sponsors yearly a series of guest lectures by prominent lawyers.

THE LAW REVIEW

The Fordham Law Review is published four times during the school year in October, December, February and April, by a board of student editors chosen on the basis of their scholarship. Every issue contains articles on legal subjects prepared by members of the bar, by law school teachers or by others expert in law, as well as notes on recent decisions and comments on legal subjects prepared by the board of student editors. The publication of the review and its use in various courses is considered a part of the general educational program of the School. Law Review membership is considered the highest honor the School can confer. Law Review experience is considered perfected training for the practice of law.

The Law Review Offices, on the second floor of the classroom wing, overlook the main reading room of the Library.

For students entering the School a deposit of $50.00 is required to be paid upon notice of acceptance. This will be applied upon the applicant's registration and tuition fees and will not be refunded for any reason should he fail to enter the School. One half of the tuition for each year is due from all students at the opening of each term of the scholastic year.

Graduation fee ........................................ $ 25.00
Due at beginning of final term.
Conditioned examination fee ......................... 10.00

The right is reserved by the School to alter the above schedule of fees at any time without notice.

No degree is granted or certificate of attendance issued to any student who has not paid all fees due from him to the School.

No student who is in default more than two weeks in the payment of any fee will be permitted to attend lectures or to take any examination during the continuance of such default.

No fee paid or any portion thereof is returnable as a matter of right upon the withdrawal of a student from the School. Where illness, physical disability, or other extraordinary circumstance requires a student to leave, he may file with the School a written statement of the causes of such withdrawal. Thereupon, provided such statement be filed promptly and within the then current scholastic year, the School will take under consideration the equities of the case. In no event, however, will any deposit paid on acceptance of application for registration be returned or credited, nor will any refund of a fee be made for a fraction of any quarter of the School year during any portion of which the student was in attendance.

Veterans entering the School under P.L. 16, or P.L. 550 must obtain Certificates of Eligibility from the Veterans Administration.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS
The School does not maintain a boarding department. However, the Admissions Office on request will endeavor to furnish information as to where room and board off the campus can be obtained. Fordham Law School and Fordham University draws its student body from many parts of the world and from many different racial, religious and national groups. Since this is true, it is the policy of the University that all housing submitted for listing be available to Fordham students without discrimination as to race, religion or national origin.

SCHOLARSHIPS—STUDENT AID
University Scholarships. The University makes available each year to entering students a number of scholarships and partial scholarships awarded, upon application, by the Dean of the Law School and the Faculty Committee on Law School Scholarships. Further scholarship assistance is also available, in the discretion of the Dean, to students of high scholastic promise who require financial help.

Law Review Scholarships. The University grants nine full-tuition scholarships to those seniors who are elected to the Board of Editors of the Fordham Law Review. In addition, a special honorarium is awarded to the Editor-in-Chief.

University Grants-in-Aid. After a student has completed Freshman year, he may apply for financial assistance in meeting his expenses for the ensuing years of his education. To be eligible, the student must be in good academic standing and demonstrate his financial need. The grant is renewable annually.

Law Alumni Scholarship. The Fordham Law Alumni Association, through its Scholarship Committee, makes available a number of scholarships on a yearly basis. These scholarships are awarded, upon application, by the Dean and the Scholarship Committee of the Law School to students of high scholastic promise.

Morgan O'Brien Preston Scholarship. A full-tuition scholarship has been made available through the generosity of Mrs. Stuart D. Preston in honor of her deceased son, Morgan O'Brien Preston. The scholarship is awarded by the Dean and the Faculty Committee on Law School Scholarships.

The "Ed Sullivan Scholarship" of the Loyal League Philanthropies, Inc., of New York City. A scholarship award is made by the loyal league to an entering student who is a male graduate of a public school in the Greater New York Metropolitan Area, and who satisfies the tests of financial and academic accomplishment.

The Louis Stein Fund. A special loan fund has been made available for the use of students in financial need by Louis Stein, Class of 1926. This fund is administered at the discretion of the Dean.

McCarthy & McGrath Book Fund. Mr. Herman J. McCarthy and Mr. Charles F. McGrath, members of the law firm of McCarthy & McGrath, have established a small revolving fund to be used in the discretion of the Faculty for the purchase of books by students who are temporarily unable to acquire them. It is expected that users of the fund will replenish it, without interest, to the extent of the amount borrowed, when financially able to do so. Student interested should advise the Dean.

State Loan Programs. A number of states sponsor loan programs for students who are legal residents of the state. Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, and Virginia are included among the states making these loans available. Loan forms are usually obtainable at the local branches of the various savings and commercial banks.

Residents of New York State are eligible to participate in the loan program of the New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation. Applications for these loans and a list of the participating lending institutions may be obtained by writing to the Corporation, 111 Washington Avenue, Albany, New York, 12224.

Tuition Plan Incorporated. Through an agreement with the University, the Fordham student may make use of the program of Tuition Plan Inc., a leaflet describing the terms of the available contracts and an application may be obtained by writing prior to June 15th to: The Office of the Bursar, Fordham University, Bronx, New York 10458.

The American Bar Association Fund for Legal Education. The American Bar Association has established a Law Student Loan Program to help qualified students obtain a legal education. It has been designed to supplement the scholarship and loan programs of the approved law schools by adding additional lending capacity through which students may obtain loans in order to meet law school expenses. Interested students are directed to write to the Director of Admissions for further information and loan forms.

Scholar Incentive Awards have been established by the State of New York for residents of the State. To qualify as a resident, a student must have been a resident for a period of at least twelve months immediately preceding the beginning of the semester for which he applies.

New applicants for admission must file a formal application, which may be obtained from the University of the State of New York, State Education Department, Albany, New York, 12224.

To qualify for S.I.A. during the first semester of law school, a candidate must have: (1) achieved a weighted grade-point average of at least 2.5 in the undergraduate study completed prior to the year in which application is made or graduate study is begun. (In computing this weighted grade-point average, the following points are assigned the letter grades: A-4; B-3; C-2; D-1; E or F-0) or, (2) attained a rank in the upper half of his total college class (cumulative), or, (3) attained a combined score of 950 in the verbal and quantitative parts of the aptitude tests of the Graduate Record Exam. Grades of the Law School Admission Test may not be substituted.

Scholar Incentive Awards may be granted only for Full-time attendance. This has been construed to mean a minimum of 12 credit hours each semester.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

*Accounting for Lawyers

This course involves a study of business accounting, with particular emphasis on the preparation and analysis of financial statements and such problems as revenues and costs, tangible and intangible assets, depreciation and amortization, inventory valuation, and surplus and reserves. In addition, discussion is directed to various phases of legal problems and the making of legal and financial decisions with respect to them. The course will be restricted to a limited number of students and is designed for law students having little or no previous knowledge of bookkeeping and accounting.

*Administrative Law

This course is divided into two major divisions, quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial administrative functions. In the former is included studies as to the validity of the organic statute and administrative regulations. In the latter the materials provoke discussion of the fairness of pre-trial procedure, the requisites of notice and hearing, conduct of the hearing, methods of obtaining judicial review and the scope thereof.

Agency Relationships

A study of the law of agency, master and servant, and partnerships covering the source of the agent's and partner's authority, ratification, undisclosed principal, termination of the agency, dissolution and termination of partnership, non-terminable agency, rights between principal and agent and among partners, partnership property; the joint venture, business and limited partnership; workmen's compensation.

*Close Corporations—Seminar

Intensive study of the problem of close corporations. Students will be required to write an original research paper on some aspect of the law concerning such corporations, and to draft the appropriate papers (certificate of incorporation, shareholder agreement, etc.) for a close corporation. Seminar limited to 14 students. Completion of the course in Corporations and permission of the instructor are prerequisites for enrollment.

Commercial Financing

This course deals with the use and operation of the major credit devices employed in modern commercial financing. The course involves an intensive study of installment selling, discounting trade paper, inventory and receivables financing and the use of documents as security. The rights and liabilities of the parties, unsecured creditors, the trustee in bankruptcy, and other third parties are considered. A detailed and complete study of the structure and operation of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

Commercial Paper

This course considers the uses and operation of negotiable instruments in commercial transactions, the resulting bank deposits and their collection. The course involves an intensive and detailed study of Articles 1, 3 and 4 of the Uniform Commercial Code and its effect on commercial and banking practices.

Fordham Law School

at Lincoln Square . . .

Fordham University

“... the business of a law school is not sufficiently described when you merely say that it is to teach law, or to make lawyers. It is to teach law in the grand manner, and to make great lawyers.”
The law library, occupying one-third of the floor space area, has five stack levels with a quarter million volume capacity, reading rooms for both faculty and students, microfilm and micro-card equipment, other modern facilities.

Interior view of law library
Completed in 1961, the Fordham University School of Law, with its four-story main structure and three-story library (left, above), offers to its students of law, to its alumni and to the legal profession the most modern facilities for instruction, research and law study, including individual research rooms, seminar rooms, cafeteria, and classrooms equipped for closed-circuit television. The structures, fully air-conditioned, stand at the southern end of the landscaped plaza opening upon the cultural center of the nation, Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.
The completely equipped Moot Court Room includes judge’s chambers, jury room, jury box, and seating capacity for 150 spectators.

Comfortable lounges are available for students and faculty.
Commercial Transactions

This course deals with the rights and obligations of parties engaged in the marketing and distribution of merchandise. The formation and interpretation of the sales contract, its performance, the risk of loss, and the rights and remedies of the parties are intensively considered. This course also develops the law of products liability, documentary transfers, bulk sales, and letters of credit. The course is designed to develop Articles 1, 2, 5, 6 and 7 of the Uniform Commercial Code, with its principal emphasis on Articles 2 and 7.

*Comparative Law  Spring semester, 2 hours

A general course designed to familiarize the student with the technique of using foreign materials and with legal institutions of other countries. The course is primarily based upon the methods and structures of those contemporary legal systems (European and Latin American) whose sources stem from the Roman Law.

Conflict of Laws

A study of the principles applicable when courts of one jurisdiction enforce rights created or acquired in another jurisdiction. An analysis of general concepts involved in the choice of law such as domicile, characterization, renvoi, substance, procedure and jurisdiction. Also includes choice of law, rules in the field of torts, contracts, workmen's compensation, property, trusts, decedents' estates, business organizations and domestic relations as well as the specific rules applicable in the federal courts.

*Connecticut Practice and Procedure

A study of Connecticut State Court practice and procedure from the inception of an action to judgment and appeal.

*Constitution and Civil Liberties, The—Seminar

Selected problems in the development of civil liberties, particularly in problems of racial discrimination, obscenity, religion, and regulation of subversive associations.

No textbook required.

Constitutional Law

A study of the United States Constitution, stressing the theory and practice of judicial interpretation and review; the separation of federal powers; the relation of the states to the federal government; specific governmental powers, in particular the tax, treaty, war and commercial powers; the various limitations imposed on the exercise of governmental power, stressing in particular the due process and equal protection clauses and the bill of rights.

Contracts

A study of the fundamental principles governing the formation of simple contracts and statutory modifications of the common law; their operation; the rights and liabilities of third parties; discharge of contracts by virtue of impossibility of performance; the statute of frauds, the parol evidence rule, and other defenses. The provisions of the Commercial Code relating to contracts are also considered.

* Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
† Cf. footnotes, pages 30 & 31.
Corporations

The private business corporation and its relationship to the state, shareholders and third parties. Topics considered include the corporate entity concept, the organization of corporations, their powers, the rights and duties of promoters, officers, and directors; shareholders' derivative actions. Pertinent S.E.C. legislation is examined.

Creditor's Rights

The course deals in general with the rights of unsecured creditors. Matters discussed include collection of judgments, fraudulent conveyances, general assignments and creditors' agreements. About two-thirds of the course deals with law and procedure in bankruptcy. Security interests under the proposed Uniform Commercial Code are considered.

Criminal Law

The function of the criminal law, the elements of the major offenses at common law and under modern penal codes, and the defenses to criminal liability. Anticipatory offenses are studied and the course includes a discussion of the basic steps in a criminal action with specific reference to the constitutional rights of the accused.

*Criminal Procedure—Seminar

Selected problems in the area of constitutional criminal procedure including confessions, right to counsel, illegal searches, etc. Research paper required. Admission only with permission of the instructor.

Damages

Domestic Relations

The contract to marry, the marriage contract and the legal relation created by such contracts. The methods of legally terminating marriage, including annulment, divorce, dissolution and separation. The rights of custody and support and the requisites for recognition of matrimonial decrees obtained in foreign jurisdictions are considered.

Equity

A study of the history, jurisdiction and powers of courts of equity. The objective is an understanding of equitable rights and remedies supplementing and correcting the deficiencies and inadequacies of the law. Specific performance of contracts, injunctive relief against torts and the scope of injunctive relief generally are stressed.

*Estate Planning

A comparative study of methods of effecting the client's purposes in respect of the conservation and transmission of his estate while minimizing the impact of income, gift and estate taxes. Integration of life insurance, inter vivos gifts, revocable and irrevocable inter vivos trusts; the short term trust; disposition of business interests; testamentary trusts, powers and marital deduction; multiple and sprinkling trusts; charitable gifts and the charitable foundation. The course in Taxation is required to be taken in conjunction with the course in Estate Planning.

* Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.

Coverage; amount of recovery; representations; warranties concealment; waiver and estoppel. Interests of others than the insured standard mortgagee clause, subrogation.

International Law
A study of the law governing the relations of independent nations and other entities endowed with international personality. It comprises—the nature and sources of international law; recognition of states and governments; law of international organizations (with emphasis on the United Nations, Organization of American States, and European Economic Community); rights and obligations of the individual; bases and scope of state jurisdiction, including maritime jurisdiction; governmental and diplomatic immunities; law of treaties; state responsibility; and the settlement of international disputes.

Introduction to Law
The sources and forms of American law, the various methods of locating case law, analysis and synthesis of courts' decisions. The interpretation of statutes, the guides to such interpretation, the inter-relation of case and statutory law, and the characteristic differences between case law and legislation are also treated. Legal research and writing, including preparation of a memorandum of law.

Jurisprudence
An introduction to the methods, problems, and schools of Jurisprudence. The course aims particularly at stimulating some insight into the problems connected with the functions of the State, and hence of law, in a pluralist society like the modern United States. For the sake of historical perspective, some comparison is made of modern Anglo-American legal thought with that of Plato, Aristotle, Augustine, Aquinas, Locke, and the Founding Fathers. Special attention is given to the interrelationships of Church and State, of law and morality, and of the people and their elected representatives.

* Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
