FORDHAM LAW SCHOOL
AT LINCOLN CENTER

The Fordham University School of Law is located in Manhattan at the new Lincoln Center campus of the University.

The Law School building is located on West 62nd Street between Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues—one block west of Broadway. It is two blocks west of Central Park, three blocks northwest of Columbus Circle and is readily accessible from the 59th Street-Columbus Circle stations of the IRT-Broadway-7th Avenue and the Independent 6th and 8th Avenue subway lines. The IRT has a convenient local stop at 66th Street Lincoln Center as well, and the area is served by a number of bus routes.

Adjoining the School of Law to the north is the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts; fourteen landscaped acres on which stand the magnificent new Metropolitan Opera House, Philharmonic Hall, New York State Theater, Vivian Beaumont Theater and Library-Museum, the Juilliard School of Music and its Recital Hall, and Damrosch Park with a band shell for open air concerts.

INFORMATION

The Admissions Office of the Law School, in Room 103, 140 West 62nd Street, is open during every business day of the year. Information regarding the requirements of the school for entrance, and for its degree and information regarding admission to the bar may be obtained upon application.

ENDOWED CHAIRS

THE ALPIN J. CAMERON CHAIR OF LAW

The Alpin J. Cameron Chair of Law was founded by the late Alpin W. Cameron of Philadelphia to honor the memory of his father, a member of the Class of 1872, Fordham College. The Chair was instituted at the Law School on February 1, 1957. The first incumbent was Professor George W. Bacon. He was succeeded by Professor Thomas J. Snee. The present holder of the Chair is Professor Leonard F. Manning.

THE AGNES AND IGIANTJUS M. WILKINSON CHAIR OF LAW

The Agnes and Ignatius M. Wilkinson Chair of Law was created by the will of the late Dean Ignatius M. Wilkinson. The Chair was instituted on November 18, 1961 at the dedication of the Fordham University School of Law building at Lincoln Center. The first incumbent is Dean William Hughes Mulligan.
For more than a century and a quarter, Fordham University has served the American community by offering instruction in the liberal arts and selected professional areas, on both the undergraduate and graduate levels. What distinguishes Fordham from other universities is the complex of academic specialties and traditions, the result of its heritage and its growth in New York City.

Fordham's oldest tradition, carried on through Fordham College, Thomas More College, the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, and the School of General Studies, is its commitment to educate talented young men and women in the liberal arts and basic sciences. This commitment emphasizes a rigorous intellectual formation, which stresses humanistic and cultural values, which is open to students of differing religious faiths and backgrounds, and which provides an opportunity not only for the mastery of secular intellectual disciplines but the possibility of studying them in an environment where religious values have a coordinate presence on the campus.

As an urban university, Fordham has a special relationship with the New York metropolis. This concept of community service is best expressed through its professional Schools of Law, Pharmacy, Business Administration, Education, and Social Service, which have made a significant contribution to its public life, and whose students are drawn largely from the New York metropolitan area.

Fordham is a Catholic university. It was founded under Catholic auspices and has been under the guidance of the members of the Society of Jesus, a religious order of men, dedicated to the task of higher education since 1540. The University is governed by a self-perpetuating, independent Board of Trustees, under a charter granted by the New York State Board of Regents.

Fordham, however, is not Church-related in the sense that it receives financial support from a Church body, or that it requires religious practices or studies of its students. For its Catholic students, who so desire, there is opportunity to participate fully in the liturgy and devotional life of the Church.

Fordham does believe that the rich intellectual and moral heritage of Catholicism has a place on any campus where the varieties of human experience are studied, and has relevance to a humanistic education.
This assumes that it should be approached academically and in comparison with other traditions of present and past societies. The University seeks to attract professors and students from both Catholic and other traditions, in order to provide a more stimulating intellectual environment, and to increase together valuable insight into problems of common interest and concern.

The Law Department opened in the fall of 1905 and in 1907 was given the name Fordham University School of Law. After more than a half-century on lower Broadway, the School of Law moved to its present home at Lincoln Center in September, 1961. In the heart of New York City, the legal commercial and financial capital of the world, the Law School stands at the southern end of the landscaped plaza which opens upon the cultural center of the nation, Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. Spreading to the north, through fourteen tree-lined acres, are the new Metropolitan Opera House, the Philharmonic Hall, the Juilliard School of Music, the Vivian Beaumont Repertory Theatre, the New York State Theatre and the Library-Museum for the Performing Arts.

In this setting of park and plaza spaciousness, unfettered by the rigid gridiron of city streets, the Fordham Law School building, completely air-conditioned, blends with the architectural elegance of its surroundings while retaining its unique character as a school of law. In addition to classrooms, seminar rooms, administrative, Law Review and faculty offices, the Law School building houses a magnificent Moot Court room, commodious lounges for students, faculty and alumni, a large, informal reading room, and a library, complete with the most modern equipment, capable of handling in excess of 250,000 volumes.

Throughout its history, the School of Law has awarded the Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) degree to students successfully completing the course of studies. In 1968, at the recommendation of the faculty, and with the approval of the Board of Regents of the State of New York and the Board of Trustee of Fordham University, the degree was changed to Doctor of Law (J.D.).

The School of Law is a community of scholars within the University, enjoying and perpetuating the heritage of Jesuit interest in the law and legal education. The faculty conceive its primary purpose to be the preparation of students for the practice of law and the stimulation of their interest in legal scholarship. This contemplates not simply the training of men and women qualified as legal technicians but more importantly... their education as lawyers fully conscious of the grave responsibilities inherent in their profession.

The School of Law recognizes that it is preparing its students for service not only in the representation of clients but in the creation, interpretation and administration of the laws which govern the nation, state and municipality. The School of Law is cognizant, also, of its continuing obligation to be of service to its alumni and to the legal profession generally as the law continues its inevitable expansion and development.

The School offers a practical and scientific professional education in law. The curriculum includes a study of the principles of general jurisprudence, of the common and statute law of the United States, of the system of equity jurisprudence and, recognizing that a better understanding of the present can be acquired from a study of the past, of the historical and philosophical origins of law.

The course for the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) covers three academic years in the day division and four academic years in the evening division.

The case system of study is primarily used, carefully selected collections of cases being employed as the basis of instruction. The teacher and the students discuss the assigned materials critically and comparatively, both with respect to the facts and decisions reached and the rules and principles of law involved. Thus the students are trained in legal analysis and accurate reasoning, while at the same time they are acquiring familiarity with the principles of law and their development through the use of the actual decisions of the courts. The skills used by the lawyer in counselling clients, in drafting agreements, statutes and other legal documents, in trying cases, in arguing appeals and in legal research and legal writing are taught and practiced in class, in Moot Court competitions and on the Fordham Law Review to the fullest extent an academic atmosphere inspires and academic limitations allow.

The School recognizes the fact that a grasp of the broad principles of common law is essential for the well-equipped lawyer and aims to train its students so that they may be qualified to practice law in any common law jurisdiction.

It is the conviction of the faculty that a well-grounded lawyer, especially if he is to be equipped to be a leader in public affairs, should have inculcated in him a sound philosophy of law. To this end, a comprehensive course in Historical and Analytical Jurisprudence is given. Thus due consideration is given to the ethical and historical aspects of the problem with which the philosophy of law is concerned and to the traditional scholastic and American viewpoint on the ultimate basis of civil authority and limitations on the power of the state.

It is believed that the courses of the School are so arranged as to unite a sound training in the fundamental principles of the law with a training in the practical application of those principles to actual legal work.

ACCREDITATION

The Law School is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is on the approved list of the American Bar Association. Fordham University is a member of the Council of Higher Educational Institutions in New York City.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

The School of Law is open to men and women. No discrimination is made on the ground of race or religious belief. Applicants for degrees must be at least eighteen years of age upon entering the first year class and must be of good character.

Every applicant must be a graduate of a college or university approved by the University of the State of New York and must present a certificate that he holds an accredited degree conferred after satisfactory completion of a four-year college course, together with a full transcript of his scholastic record.

Where the applicant at the time of forwarding his transcript has not completed all of the college work on which he seeks admission, a transcript of record to the end of his last completed term may be furnished and the transcript for the term which he is then attending is to be transmitted immediate after his completion of the work thereof.

As a prerequisite for admission, an applicant must take the Law School Admission Test. Information about this examination may be obtained at the Admissions Office or by writing to Law School Admission Test, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

Applicants taking the test should request that their scores be reported to the Fordham University School of Law. Results will also be sent to the applicant and such other law schools as he may designate.

No special preparation for the test is necessary, as it is intended to measure intellectual capacity and aptitude rather than knowledge of particular subject-matter. The test should preferably be taken before formal application for admission to the School of Law.
Applicants for admission will be accepted on the basis of their presumptive fitness to pursue the study of law with success as disclosed by their college records, their scores on the Law School Admission Test, and the information as to character and fitness contained in the statement required to be filed by all applicants, as well as such other data as may be available or required.

Any applicant who has attended any other law school and who either has been required to withdraw therefrom or who is ineligible to continue without condition in regular course therein by reason of deficiency in scholarship, or otherwise, will not be admitted to this School.

Applicants whose degrees are not registered by the State Education Department of New York as acceptable to admit the holders thereof to law study, must obtain a Law Student Qualifying Certificate. Application for a Law Student Qualifying Certificate should be directed to the University of the State of New York, The State Education Department, Division of Professional Education, Albany, New York 12201. Those who meet the School's requirements for admission should have no difficulty in procuring such certificate where necessary.

ADVANCED STANDING

An applicant who has satisfied all of the entrance requirements for regular first year students, and in addition has completed successfully one or more years of law study in a law school maintaining standards satisfactory to this School and duly registered by the University of the State of New York, and who is eligible to return to such law school in regular course, may be admitted to advanced standing. The amount of credit which will be given in such a case will depend upon the standards of the school and the quantitative and qualitative record of the student therein. Generally advanced standing will not be granted beyond the second year in the day course or the third year in the evening course.

STUDIES REQUIRED OR DEGREE

The required course for the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) in the day division of the School extends over three academic years, in all of which at least twelve periods of classroom instruction per week are required. Students entering this division are expected to devote substantially all of their working time to law study. The required course for the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) in the evening division of the School extends over four academic years. The average number of classroom hours per week in the Evening division is ten; however, in specific cases and with the Dean's permission, a student may be permitted to take a minimum of eight hours.

The work of the four years in the evening course equals that required in the three years of the day course. The class schedules in the evening course are so arranged that the student is usually not required to attend classes in excess of four evenings every week.

Every candidate for the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D) will be required to take all of the courses prescribed in the curriculum in the first and second years. In the third year, the day division and the third and fourth years of the evening division part of the courses are prescribed and part are elective. A sufficient number of the latter courses, including at least one of the Practice courses, must be elected by the student to make up with prescribed courses the minimum number of hours required each year.

Upon making the necessary arrangements with the Admissions Office, including payment of the additional cost, a student may take at least one additional elective course per semester, provided there be no conflict with other courses elected or prescribed.

REGISTRATION

The School of Law admits students to the first year and will admit students standing only in the fall semester.

Applicants for admission to the School may apply by mail or they may appear in person at the Admissions Office of the law school at Lincoln Center to fill out the necessary statement and application on the School form and to file the required credentials. The Director of Admissions will mail the forms on request.

The Admissions Office will receive applications for the fall term from the previous November 1st. All applications must be accompanied by a fifteen dollar application fee. This fee is not refundable in any event and is not creditable against tuition or other charges.

As the School limits the number in every session, and time is usually required for consideration of the application as well as to procure the necessary credentials and record early application for admission is desirable.

Students will not be registered under abbreviated or colloquial forms of recognized names. The registered name of the student will be entered on all certificates and degrees of the School, except in case of obvious error, or where the student shall have filed with the School a duly certified copy of an order of a court of competent jurisdiction permitting a change.
of name, and proof, satisfactory to the School, of compliance with the terms, if any, of such order.

Entering students must register personally on the Monday or Tuesday preceding the start of the fall semester. All students already enrolled in the Law School must register personally prior to the start of the school year. The dates of such registration period are published in the academic calendar. All students must personally register for the spring semester at the times set by the Admissions Office and published in the Academic Calendar. No student who fails to appear as required above will be permitted to attend class without the special permission of the Dean. A late registration fee of ten dollars ($10) will be charged in those cases where the Dean has permitted a student to register after the stated time.

The continuance upon the rolls and the graduation of each student, the awarding of academic credits, and the granting of any certificate or degree are strictly subject to the disciplinary powers of the University. The University reserves the right in its discretion at any time to cancel a student's registration, or to refuse to award academic credits, or to deny a certificate or a degree.

The disciplinary authority of the University is vested in the President of the University in such cases as he deems proper, and, subject to the reserved powers of the President, in the deans or other officers upon whom jurisdiction may be from time to time conferred.

The classes in the day division are scheduled between the hours of 9:30 A.M. and 5 P.M. on every weekday except Saturday.

In the evening division classes will be held in the evening on every weekday except Wednesday and Saturday, commencing at 6 o'clock. Certain elective courses open to day or evening students or both may be scheduled for Wednesday evening or Saturday morning.

Once registered in either a day or evening division of the School, a student may not transfer to the other division.

The School reserves the right to change the hours of classes at any time at the discretion of the Faculty.

Class schedules are published at the beginning of each term.
ATTENDANCE REGULATIONS

1. Every student must occupy the seat assigned him. Otherwise an absence will be charged against the student’s record even though he be present.

2. Excessive absence during the year bars the student from examinations and cancels all credit for the year’s work.

3. Unexcused absence from more than half the lectures in any course bars the student from examination in or attendance credit for such course, even though the student’s aggregate absence for the year is not excessive within Rule 2. If such case a failure in the course will be entered on the student’s record.

4. Death in the student’s immediate family or the serious illness of the student is cause for excuse of absence in the Dean’s discretion provided the total of previous absences excused and unexcused plus the period of absence for which excuse is sought is not so excessive as in the Dean’s opinion to prevent certification of good and regular attendance of the student as required by Court Rule.

5. Where absence is sought to be excused for illness, a certificate of the attending physician establishing the fact to the Dean’s satisfaction must be filed immediately upon the student’s return. This should contain 1) the date of commencement and termination of the illness; 2) a statement of its general nature; and 3) the physician’s certification that the student was prevented thereby from attending lectures.

6. Students are advised to keep accurate records of their absences, as the Admission Office will not issue any warning to them prior to their exclusion in the event of excessive absence as aforesaid.

7. The number of absences charged against a student or the official records is conclusive in all cases except where obvious clerical error appears.

8. Excessive absences under Rule 2: day division, 31 hours of unexcused absence; first and second year of the evening division, 21 hours of unexcused absence; third and fourth year of the evening division, 26 hours of unexcused absence.

EXAMINATIONS AND GRADES

Written examinations are held at the end of every term in all subjects completed therein and as essential parts thereof Classroom work, so far as practicable, is also a determinan of general standing.

Examinations for all classes will begin promptly at the hour announced in the examination schedule posted prior to the examination period in each semester.

Students must present themselves for examination at the examination held immediately upon completion of every sub ject unless excused by the Dean. Omission to do so will constitute a failure of such examination by the student.

The standing of students will be indicated by the letters A, B, C, D, and F, signifying Excellent, Good, Fair, Poor and Failure respectively. A paper of exceptional merit will be marked A+.

A grade of D or better constitutes a passing mark in a subject. To continue in good scholastic standing, however, a student must maintain a weighted average grade of at least C in every scholastic year. Any student who fails to do so will not be permitted to continue in the School or to be a candidate for degree. Students whose weighted grade average is below 75% but above 70% will receive a C— average which will serve as a warning to the student that his performance has been in a border-line category.

In case a student is permitted to defer an examination, he must take the next examination given in the subject. In the meantime, if on the examinations taken by him his weighted average is at least C, he may be allowed to continue conditionally in the School, subject to his maintaining at least said weighted average grade when the deferred examination is taken. If on the examinations taken by him his weighted average grade is less than C, he will be excluded from the School unless and until on taking the deferred examination his weighted average grade is brought up to at least C.

Failed or omitted examinations aggregating in the year-hour value more than one quarter of the required work of any year, will constitute a failed year irrespective of the weighted average grade obtained by the student. In such case the student will not be permitted to take any re-examination in the failed subjects or to continue in the School or to be a candidate for degree.

In the case of failed or omitted examinations, if the year-hour value constitutes no more than one quarter of the year’s required work, the examinations may be retaken at the next regularly scheduled examination period, except in the case of subjects in the final year of the course. Because of a University policy to award degrees only on the second Saturday in June, the first day of September and the first day of February, the conditioned examinations for senior students will be held during the second week of August so that the degree may be conferred in September. If the examination is again failed or omitted, the student will be required to repeat the subject.

Any student who fails to pass or does not take the first examination offered in a course required to be repeated as aforesaid will not be allowed to take any further examination therein, or to continue in the School or to be a candidate for degree.
Where the content of a course, in which a student has failed or deferred to take the examination, has changed subsequent to said examination, the student will be required to prepare himself on the altered content of the course. Should the course be omitted so that no examination is thereafter given, the student may be required to take an additional course and pass an examination therein in lieu of the omitted course.

No day student will be permitted to enter the third-year class with any failed first-year course outstanding against him; no evening student will be permitted to enter the fourth-year class with any failed first- or second-year course outstanding against him.

A student, who attains a weighted average of 85% or better for the academic year, is honored by being placed on the Dean’s List for that year. A student who completes all requirements for the degree with a cumulative weighted average of 87% will receive the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) cum laude; one who has a cumulative weighted average of 92% will receive the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) magna cum laude; and one who has a cumulative weighted average of 95% or higher will receive the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) summa cum laude.

The Honors of the Graduating Class are awarded to a student in each of the three sections who attains the highest cumulative average for the three or four years of the cour
PRIZES

The Frances Thaddeus Wolff Prize. Mrs. Henry J. Wolff, a graduate of the school, has donated $300 for three awards of $100 each to that member of each session of the senior class who has attained the highest weighted average in his studies in the senior year.

Senior Prizes. In the graduating class the student attaining the second highest weighted average in his studies throughout the year will be awarded a prize of fifty dollars ($50.00).

School Prizes. In all First Year Classes, Second Year Classes and Third Year Evening Class, the student attaining the highest weighted average in his studies throughout the year will be awarded a prize of fifty dollars ($50.00).

The Chapin Prize. A prize consisting of the income of the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000), established by the will of Mrs. Mary Knox Chapin, widow of Professor H. Gerald Chapin, who for many years and until his death was a member of the faculty of the School, is awarded annually to that graduate of the School who has attained the highest weighted average in his studies throughout the full course in the School.

Class of 1911 Prize. The Class of 1911, on the occasion of its Silver Jubilee, established a prize consisting of the yearly income of the sum of $1,500, to be awarded annually for the best essay submitted by a student in the senior class of the Law School on a legal subject to be designated annually by the Dean. In the event that in any year no essay submitted is deemed worthy of the award, the income of the fund for that year is devoted to the purchase of books for the law library.

Class of 1952 (Morning Division) Award. The Class of 1952 (morning division) on the occasion of the 15th Anniversary of its graduation established a fund through which the student submitting the best paper in the Second Year Writing Program, as judged by a committee of the faculty, will be awarded the sum of $100.

Fordham Law Alumni Association Medals in Constitutional Law. Three gold medals, the gift of the Fordham Law Alumni Association, are awarded to those members of the graduating class who excel in Constitutional Law in their particular sections.
George W. Bacon Award. A plaque and certificates are awarded annually by the National Legal Fraternity Gamma Eta Gamma to those students who are adjudged by the Faculty Moot Court Adviser to have excelled in Moot Court competition, both trial and appellate.

Prizes of the Edward Thompson Company. These prizes are as follows: 1) A set of Modern Legal Forms to be presented to that student, who in the opinion of the faculty, in his final year has manifested most improvement over his previous year. 2) A set of Modern Legal Forms to be awarded to that student who, in the opinion of the faculty, in his second year has manifested most improvement over his first year.

Prizes of the West Publishing Company. These prizes are as follows: 1) Each year the American Law Book Company awards one selected title of Corpus Juris Secundum to a student in each year who, in the opinion of the Faculty Committee on Prizes, has made the most significant contribution toward over-all legal scholarship. 2) Each year the West Publishing Company awards a selected title from the Hornbook Series to the student in each year who achieves the highest scholastic average in his year.

The United States Law Week Award. A year’s subscription to the United States Law Week is awarded by the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., of Washington, D.C., to the graduating student who is adjudged by a committee of the faculty to have made the most satisfactory scholastic progress in his final year.

“American Jurisprudence” Prizes. The Joint Publishers of “American Jurisprudence,” Bancroft-Whitney of San Francisco, California, and The Lawyers Co-operative Publishing Company of Rochester, New York, have presented to the school separately bound encyclopedia articles on subjects. These are awarded to the highest ranking student in each subject, and the selection of the winners is determined by the professors teaching the respective courses.

Williams Press Official Reports Award. To the members of the graduating class, elected by the Faculty, who reside in and intends to practice in New York State, who maintains the highest standing in Contracts, Equity, Evidence, Real Property and Torts: A complete set of the New York Reports, 2d Series, together with one year’s subscription to the Official Reports including the Advance Sheets and Session Law pamphlets. Donated by Williams Press, Inc.

GUARANTEED TITLE COMPANY AWARD. A prize of $100 and a Certificate of Award is awarded annually, by the Guaranteed Title Company of New York City to the student who writes the best article based upon legal research in the field of Real Property. The subjects are to be approved and the winner selected by a faculty committee, composed of professors teaching the courses in Real Property.

NEW YORK CONSOLIDATED LAW SERVICE PRIZE. One set of the New York Consolidated Laws and one set consisting of the Penal Law and Code of Criminal Procedure are awarded annually to students in the graduating class who, in the opinion of the faculty, have exhibited consistent excellence in preparation and scholarship.

Some states, for example, Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Texas require that persons undertaking the study of law with a view toward practicing in those states register as candidates for the bar when they begin their study or prior to such study. Each applicant for admission to the School is advised to investigate the requirements of the state in which he intends to practice. The Director of Admissions will furnish on request the address of the particular state agency to which inquiry should be made. Timely fulfillment of these requirements for practice in the aforementioned states is essential and each student should complete his registration before classes begin. New York State does not require registration prior to the commencement of law school.

Graduates of the School who are citizens of the United States over twenty-one years of age and are actual residents of New York State, or who intend to become residents before the date of the examination, and intend in good faith to maintain such actual residence for at least six months prior to applying for admission to the Bar of this State, are eligible to take the New York State Bar Examination.

Under the revised rules of the Court of Appeals of New York, effective March 1, 1955 and amended April 1, 1963, candidates passing the bar examination are eligible for admission to practice upon satisfying the requirements of the Committee on Character and Fitness in the judicial department having jurisdiction of the candidate’s application for admission.

LAW LIBRARY

The capacity and promise of a law school is, in great part, measured by its library. The School’s library—in architecture, in decor, in functionalism—is the product of years of research, designing, testing and redesigning to determine how best to serve legal scholarship within the law school and among its alumni. Its east wall of glass overlooks a landscaped green; the main reading room is designed to provide spaciousness and comfort and to encourage research and study.

A balcony reading area surrounds two sides of the main reading room. On the north side of the main floor are lawyers’ rooms, a microfilm room and, interspersed among the stacks, carrels for individual study. The book stacks extending through five levels are easily accessible. An auxiliary and more informal reading room, occupying more than 5,000 square feet, is located on the lower level of the library wing.

The library contains more than 100,000 volumes, including an extensive collection of American, English and Canadian materials, international law and foreign law as well as the complete National Reporter System, the official state reports of substantially all states, the statutes of all the several state citators and state and regional digests. A large and ever expanding collection of textbooks, treatises, legal periodicals and standard encyclopedias is also maintained by the library.

The library is open daily during the school year to students of the School of Law and its alumni, from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M. except on Saturdays when it is open from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.

BOOKS AND BOOK STORE

The University Shop maintains a temporary branch on the ground floor of the Law School building. It is open for a limited period at the start of each semester and carries the required casebooks and related items. It is estimated that the cost of new casebooks is about $100.00 each year for students in the day division; $75.00 per year in the evening division.

CAFETERIA

A cafeteria is located on the ground floor of the building. It has a serving and table capacity to accommodate one hundred and twenty people.
The Fordham Law Review is published four times during the school year, in October, December, February and April, by a board of student editors chosen solely on the basis of their scholarship. The Review contains articles on a broad range of legal subjects written by members of the bar, by law school professors and by others expert in a particular area of the law, as well as notes on recent decisions and comments on legal topics prepared by the board of student editors. The publication of the Review and its use in various courses is considered part of the general educational program of the School. Law Review membership is the highest academic honor the School can confer and Law Review experience is considered ideal training for the practice of law.

The Law Review offices, on the second floor of the classroom wing, overlook the main reading room of the library. A private library and conference room is maintained by the Law Review on the same floor.

All student activities of an extra-curricular nature are under the aegis of an elected Student Bar Association. The students who are members of this Association manage the trial and appellate moot court competitions, assist in orientation and coordinate all social functions. The Association, which maintains an affiliation with the American Law Student Association, an adjunct to the American Bar Association, also sponsors an annual series of guest lectures by prominent lawyers, handles a student insurance program and book exchange, and publishes a student directory.

An extensive moot court program, closely supervised by three members of the Law School faculty, is conducted for students in every year of study. A compulsory appellate competition is conducted in the spring semester of the first year, in which two-student teams argue questions of law on appeal from a pre-ordained decision of a trial court. A similar program is run in the fall semester of the second year on a voluntary basis, whereby through a process of elimination during preliminary arguments, three students are selected to represent Fordham in the Regional and National Moot Court competitions during their senior year. In recent years Fordham has had an outstanding record of success in Regional (New York City area) competitions.

In the spring semester of second year, and during the final year, trial moot courts are held. Here the student has the opportunity to interview witnesses, pick a jury, interrogate witnesses on the stand, introduce evidence and make a summation to a jury. During the course of his law school career each student has ample opportunity to participate as a juror, witness, bailiff, party or attorney, and in the case of Law Review students, to act as a judge in a program which encourages him to put into practice the rules of law he has learned.

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES

Two national legal fraternities, Gamma Eta Gamma and Ph Alpha Delta, maintain active chapters at Fordham. Both strive to establish an enduring camaraderie among men with similar professional goals by programs emphasizing the social and cultural aspects of the lawyer's life. A branch of the national legal sorority, Kappa Beta Pi, was recently established at the Law School to provide a forum for the growing number of women studying law.

The right is reserved by the School to alter the above schedule of fees at any time without notice.

No degree is granted or certificate of attendance issued to any student who has not paid all fees due from him to the School.

No student who is in default more than two weeks in the payment of any fee will be permitted to attend lectures or to take any examination during the continuance of such default.

No fee paid or any portion thereof is returnable as a matter of right upon the withdrawal of a student from the School. Where illness, physical disability, or other extraordinary circumstance requires a student to leave, he may file with the School a written statement of the causes of such withdrawal. Thereupon, provided such statement be filed promptly and within the then current scholastic year, the School will take under consideration the equities of the case. In no event, however, will any deposit paid on acceptance of application for registration be returned or credited, nor will any refund of a fee be made for a fraction of any quarter of the School year during any portion of which the student was in attendance.

Veterans entering the School under P.L. 16, or P.L. 550 must obtain Certificates of Eligibility from the Veterans Administration.
LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

The School does not maintain a boarding department. However, the Admission Office on request will endeavor to furnish information as to where room and board off the campus can be obtained. Fordham Law School and Fordham University draw its student body from many parts of the world and from many different racial, religious and national groups. Since this is true, it is the policy of the University that all housing submitted for listing be available to Fordham students without discrimination as to race, religion or national origin.

SCHOLARSHIPS—STUDENT AID

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS. The University makes available each year to entering students a number of scholarships and partial scholarships awarded, upon application, by the Dean of the Law School and the Faculty Committee on Law School Scholarships. Further scholarship assistance is also available in the discretion of the Dean, to students of high scholastic promise who require financial help.

LAW REVIEW SCHOLARSHIPS. The University grants nine full tuition scholarships to those seniors who are elected to the Board of Editors of the Fordham Law Review. In addition, a special honorarium is awarded to the Editor-in-Chief.

UNIVERSITY GRANTS-IN-AID. After a student has completed freshman year, he may apply for financial assistance in meeting his expenses for the ensuing years of his education. To be eligible, the student must be in good academic standing and demonstrate his financial need. The grant is renewable annually.

LAW ALUMNI SCHOLARSHIPS. The Fordham Law Alumni Association, through its Scholarship Committee, makes available a number of scholarships on a yearly basis. These scholarships are awarded, upon application, by the Dean and the Scholarship Committee of the Law School to students of high scholastic promise.

MORGAN O'BRIEN PRESTON SCHOLARSHIP. A full-tuition scholarship has been made available through the generosity of Mrs. Stuart D. Preston in honor of her deceased son, Morgan O'Brien Preston. The scholarship is awarded by the Dean and the Faculty Committee on Law School Scholarships.

THE "ED SULLIVAN SCHOLARSHIP" OF THE LOYAL LEAGUE PHILANTHROPIES, INC., OF NEW YORK CITY. A scholarship award is made by the Loyal League to an entering student who is a male graduate of a public school in the Greater New York Metropolitan Area, and who satisfies the tests of financial need and academic accomplishment.

The Louis Stein Fund. A special loan fund has been made available for the use of students in financial need by Louis Stein, Class of 1926. This fund is administered at the discretion of the Dean.

McCarthy & McGrath Book Fund. Mr. Herman J. McCarthy and Mr. Charles F. McGrath, members of the law firm of McCarthy & McGrath, have established a small revolving fund to be used in the discretion of the Faculty for the purchase of books by students who are temporarily unable to acquire them. It is expected that users of the fund will replenish it, without interest, to the extent of the amount borrowed, when financially able to do so. Students interested should advise the Dean.

State Loan Program. A number of states sponsor loan programs for students who are legal residents of the state. Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, and Virginia are included among the states making these loans available. Loan forms are usually obtainable at the local branches of the various savings and commercial banks.

Residents of New York State are eligible to participate in the loan program of the New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation. Applications for these loans and a list of the participating lending institutions may be obtained by writing to the Corporation, 111 Washington Avenue, Albany, New York, 12224.

Tuition Plan Incorporated. Through an agreement with the University, the Fordham student may make use of the program of Tuition Plan Inc. A leaflet describing the terms of the available contracts and an application may be obtained by writing prior to June 15th to: The Office of the Bursar, Fordham University, Bronx, New York 10458.

The American Bar Association Fund for Legal Education. The American Bar Association has established a Law Student Loan Program to help qualified students obtain a legal education. It has been designed to supplement the scholarship and loan programs of the approved law schools by adding additional lending capacity through which students may obtain loans in order to meet law school expenses. Interested students are directed to write to the Director of Admissions for further information and loan forms.
Scholar Incentive Awards have been established by the State of New York for residents of the State. To qualify as a resident, a student must have been a resident for a period of at least twelve months immediately preceding the beginning of the semester for which he applies.

New applicants for admission must file a formal application, which may be obtained from the University of the State of New York, State Education Department, Albany, New York, 12224.

To qualify for S.I.A. during the first semester of law school, a candidate must have: 1) achieved a weighted grade point average of at least 2.5 in the undergraduate study completed prior to the year in which application is made, graduate study is begun. (In computing this weighted grade point average, the following points are assigned the letter grades: A-4; B-3; C-2; D-1; E or F-0) or, 2) attained rank in the upper half of his total college class (cumulative or, 3) attained a combined score of 950 in the verbal and quantitative parts of the aptitude tests of the Graduate Record Exam or 4) attained a score at the 50th percentile higher in the Law School Admissions Test.
An alphabetical “Description of Courses” is printed below. The curriculum is presently under study by a Faculty Committee which is making recommendations relative to new courses and the content of present courses. †This course is offered every other year. Will be given in 1968-69.
Accounting for Lawyers

A study of business accounting, with particular emphasis on the preparation and analysis of financial statements and such problems as revenues and costs, tangible and intangible assets, depreciation and amortization, inventory valuation, and surplus and reserves. In addition, discussion is directed to various phases of legal problems and the making of legal and financial decisions with respect to them. The course will be restricted to a limited number of students and is designed for law students having little or no previous knowledge of bookkeeping and accounting.

Administrative Law

This course is divided into two major divisions, quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial administrative functions. In the former is included studies as to the validity of the organic statute and administrative regulations. In the latter the materials provoke discussion of the fairness of pre-trial procedure, the requisites of notice and hearing, conduct of the hearing, methods of obtaining judicial review and the scope thereof.

Admiralty and International Maritime Law

Application of tort and contract principles to the maritime field with a consideration of traditional maritime subjects: maritime liens, collision, salvage, cargo damage, charter parties, general average, limitation of liability and ship mortgages. Briefer coverage is given to admiralty jurisdiction and procedure, federal regulation of shipping, international maritime conventions and choice of law problems.

Advocacy

This course concentrates upon the techniques and strategy employed in the trial of a civil case. It assumes that the student has had courses in civil procedures and evidence, and seeks to demonstrate the practical applications of the principles learned in these courses. The impact of procedural rules upon substantive law problems is explored, although the focus of the course is upon the former. Guest lecturers from the New York Bar attend each session to discuss all phases of the litigation from the initial client interview to final judgment. Emphasis is placed upon ethical problems which face the trial lawyer and the various tactics employed to prove issues of fact. Students are assigned a moot case in which they prepare all pleadings, motion papers, briefs and other litigation papers and the course concludes with the actual trial of these cases. Enrollment is limited in order to permit supervision of the moot court program.

*Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
Business Organizations I

A study of the law of agency, master and servant and those aspects of partnership which flow naturally from agency rules. The course covers the source of the agent’s and partner’s authority, ratification, undisclosed principal, termination of the agency, non-terminable agency, rights between principal and agent, workmen’s compensation.

Business Organizations II

The private business corporation and its relationship to the state, shareholders and third parties. Topics considered include the corporate entity concept, the organization of corporations, their powers, the rights and duties of promoters, officers and directors; shareholders’ derivative actions. Pertinent S.E.C. legislation is examined and certain additional business aspects of partnership are considered.

*Close Corporations—Seminar

Intensive study of the problem of close corporations. Students will be required to write an original research paper on some aspect of the law concerning such corporations, and to draft the appropriate papers (certificate of incorporation, shareholder agreement, etc.) for a close corporation. Seminar limited to 14 students. Completion of the course in Corporations and permission of the instructor are prerequisites for enrollment.

Commercial Financing

This course deals with the use and operation of the major credit devices employed in modern commercial financing. The course involves an intensive study of installment selling, discounting trade paper, inventory and receivables financing and the use of documents as security. The rights and liabilities of the parties, unsecured creditors, the trustee in bankruptcy, and other third parties are considered. A detailed and complete study of the structure and operation of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

Commercial Paper

The uses and operation of negotiable instruments in commercial transactions, the resulting bank deposits and their collection. The course involves an intensive and detailed study of Articles 1, 3 and 4 of the Uniform Commercial Code and its effect on commercial and banking practices.

*Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
Commercial Transactions

The rights and obligations of parties engaged in the marketing and distribution of merchandise. The formation and interpretation of the sales contract, its performance, the risk of loss, and the rights and remedies of the parties are intensively considered. This course also develops the law of products liability, documentary transfers, bulk sales, and letters of credit. The course is designed to develop Articles 1, 2, 5, 6 and 7 of the Uniform Commercial Code, with its principal emphasis on Articles 2 and 7.

*Comparative Law

A general course designed to familiarize the student with the technique of using foreign materials and with legal institutions of other countries. The course is primarily based upon the methods and structures of those contemporary legal systems (European and Latin American) whose sources stem from the Roman Law.

Conflict of Laws

A study of the principles applicable when courts of one jurisdiction enforce rights created or acquired in another jurisdiction. An analysis of general concepts involved in the choice of law such as domicile, characterization, renvoi, substance, procedure and jurisdiction. Also includes choice of law, rules in the field of torts, contracts, workmen’s compensation, property, trusts, decedents’ estates, business organizations and domestic relations as well as the specific rules applicable in the federal courts.

†*Connecticut Practice and Procedure

A study of Connecticut State Court practice and procedure from the inception of an action to judgment and appeal.

*The Constitution and Civil Liberties—Seminar

Selected problems in the development of civil liberties, particularly in problems of racial discrimination, obscenity, religion, and regulation of subversive associations.

No textbook required.

Constitutional Law

A study of the United States Constitution, stressing the theory and practice of judicial interpretation and review; the separation of federal powers; the relation of the states to the federal government; specific governmental powers, in particular the tax, treaty, war and commercial powers; the various limitations imposed on the exercise of governmental power, stressing in particular the due process and equal protection clauses and the bill of rights.

Contracts
A study of the fundamental principles governing the formation of simple contracts and statutory modifications of the common law; their operation; the rights and liabilities of third parties; discharge of contracts by virtue of impossibility of performance; the statute of frauds, the parol evidence rule, and other defenses. The provisions of the Commercial Code relating to contracts are also considered.

*Creditor’s Rights
The course deals in general with the rights of unsecured creditors. Matters discussed include collection of judgments, fraudulent conveyances, and general assignments. About two-thirds of the course deals with law and procedure in bankruptcy.

Criminal Law
The function of the criminal law, the elements of the major offenses at common law and under modern penal codes, and the defenses to criminal liability. Anticipatory offenses are studied and the course includes a discussion of the basic steps in a criminal action with specific reference to the constitutional rights of the accused.

*Criminal Law—Seminar
Selected problems in criminal law, criminal procedure, and the correctional process. Research paper required. Admission only with permission of the instructor.
*Cf. footnotes, pages 31 to 33.

Criminal Procedure
Recent developments in the area of constitutional criminal procedure are studied in depth, including confessions, right to counsel, search and seizure and the application of rights granted under the U.S. Constitution to proceedings in state courts.

*Domestic Relations
The contract to marry, the marriage contract and the legal relation created by such contracts. The methods of legally terminating marriage, including annulment, divorce, dissolution and separation. The requisites for recognition of matrimonial decrees obtained in foreign jurisdictions are considered. Selected problems concerning legitimacy, support, alimony and separation agreements.
*Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.

Estate and Gift Taxation

An introduction to the Federal estate and gift taxes with an analysis of the tax costs associated with inter vivos gifts as well as testamentary transfers.

Estate Planning

A comparative study of methods of effecting the client's purposes in respect of the conservation and transmission of his estate while minimizing the impact of income, gift and estate taxes. Integration of life insurance, inter vivos gifts; revocable and irrevocable inter vivos trusts; the short term trust; disposition of business interests; testamentary trust powers and marital deduction; multiple and sprinkling trust charitable gifts and the charitable foundation. The course Taxation must be taken in conjunction with the course Estate Planning.

A study of the rules governing the admissibility of evidence including problems of relevancy, remoteness and undue prejudice; the hearsay rule and its exceptions; the offer of evidence and objection; examination of witnesses; competency and privilege of witnesses; expert opinion evidence; illegally obtained evidence; judicial notice, burden of proof and presumptions.

Federal Practice

A study of particular problems that arise in practice in federal courts under the Federal Judicial Code and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, with emphasis upon jurisdiction, venue, the removal of causes, problems of application of substantive law and an evaluation of the similarities and differences in practice in state and federal courts.

Income Taxation I

A study of the income taxation of individuals, estates, trusts and partnerships covering such items as gross income, permissible exemptions and deductions, accounting problems, capital gains and losses.

Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
*Income Taxation II

A study of the income taxation of corporations including their organization, distributions, reorganizations and liquidations.

*Insurance

Insurance distinguished from similar transactions; insurable interest in life and fire insurance. Standard fire insurance policy provisions and major provisions of life policies. Coverage; amount of recovery; representations; warranties; concealment; waiver and estoppel. Interests of others than the insured; standard mortgagee clause; subrogation.

*International Law

A study of the law governing the relations of independent nations and other entities endowed with international personality. It comprises:—the nature and sources of international law; recognition of states and governments; law of international organizations (with emphasis on the United Nations, Organization of American States, and European Economic Community); rights and obligations of the individual; bases and scope of state jurisdiction, including maritime jurisdiction; governmental and diplomatic immunities; law of treaties; state responsibility; and the settlement of international disputes.

*Jurisprudence

An introduction to the methods, problems, and schools of Jurisprudence. The course aims particularly at stimulating some insight into the problems connected with the functions of the State, and hence of law, in a pluralist society like the modern United States. For the sake of historical perspective, some comparison is made of modern Anglo-American legal thought with that of Plato, Aristotle, Augustine, Aquinas, Locke, and the Founding Fathers. Special attention is given to the inter-relationships of Church and State, of law and morality, and of the people and their elected representatives.

*Labor Law

The rights and duties of employers, employees and labor unions under the National Labor Relations Act, as amended, with respect to concerted activities of employees for their mutual protection; the collective bargaining process and related processes.

*Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
Legal Writing I.

This course serves to introduce the student to the proper use of the law library and the tools of legal research, including the reporter system, encyclopedias, state and federal statutes, Shepard's citators and legal periodicals. The course includes instruction in how to write a memorandum of law, an appellate brief and a trial brief. A legal memorandum on an assigned problem must be submitted by each student.

Legal Research and Writing II

Each student in the Second Year Day and Third Year Evening Sessions is required to write a paper based on original research in the nature of a Law Review Comment under the tutelage of a member of the faculty. Topics and tutors may be selected by the students.

*Mortgages

The rights and liabilities of the mortgagor and mortgagee inter se and in relation to third parties. Real property legal and equitable mortgages are discussed in detail. The topics considered include priorities, accounting, recording acts and the procedure relating to foreclosure.

*New Jersey Practice and Procedure

A study of the present civil practice in the New Jersey courts from the inception of an action to the enforcement of the judgment and appeal. The course objective is to learn the Supreme Court rules covering New Jersey practice and procedure and the statutes dealing with the administration of justice.

*New York Civil Practice and Procedure

Property

A study of the origin and nature of property interests in chattels, including possession, finding, gifts, bailments, liens,

*Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
pledges, title by purchase, adverse possession judgment, accession and confusion. The second part of this course includes an introduction to the law of real property, including its historical background and basic concepts; estates in fee and fee tail, conventional life estates; the law of landlord and tenant; estates on condition, limitation and conditional limitation; the Rule in Shelley's Case and the doctrine of worthier title; the Statute of Uses and executory interests; concurrent ownership, natural rights, easements and profits.

Pleading and Jurisdiction

The course considers the Constitutional bases of jurisdiction; jurisdiction of Federal and State courts; venue; the complaint, answer, and reply; matters which must be pleaded; denials; counter claims; defective pleadings and motions addressed thereto; discovery; joinder of parties. Drafting of an actual pleading is required.

Real Property, II

This course deals with the transfer of title to Real Property. Included are: transfer of title by operation of law in cases of accretion to and erosion of riparian and littoral land and in the case of adverse possession. Transfer of title by voluntary conveyance, consideration being given to modern forms of conveyances, delivery, recording, description of land conveyed and covenants of title. Acquisition of easements by prescription or adverse user and by implication.

Remedies

Introduction to the forms of legal and equitable remedies, principles governing their scope and availability, and consideration of grounds for choosing between alternative remedies. Includes general principles of damages, specific performance, injunction, rescission, reformation and restitutional remedies.

*Securities Regulation—Seminar

Discussion of selected provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 with primary attention to the following sections of the 1934 Act: Section 10 (regulation of the use of manipulative and deceptive devices); Section 13 (periodical and other reports); Section 14 (proxies); and Section 16 (insider trading). Number of students limited. Brief papers are required. Materials to be announced. Completion of course in Corporations is prerequisite.

*Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
Suretyship

This course covers the Statute of Frauds pertaining to the surety, the surety’s rights before and after payment, the defenses available to the surety, his right to counterclaim, and the effect of discharge or alteration of the principal obligation. The rights and obligations of co-sureties and sub-sureties are also considered.

Torts

A study of the causes of action arising from breaches of legally recognized duties relating to the protection of person, reputation and property including the traditional tort action and new and developing areas of tort liability. Various defenses, immunities and privileges are discussed. The course includes a critical analysis of the fault concept of liability.

Trade Regulation

Restraint of trade at common law; restraints and monopolies under the Sherman Act and related statutes. Price fixing vertical and horizontal; trade associations; refusal to deal exclusive dealing and tying arrangements; price discrimination under the Robinson-Patman Act; mergers under the Clayton and Sherman Acts. Resale price maintenance. “Fair-trade” laws.

Trusts

The nature and creation of a trust, intention, transfer, consideration, Statute of Frauds, Statute of Wills, trust property rights and liabilities of trustee and beneficiary, assignment of interest, illusory transfers, savings bank trusts, termination of trusts, constructive and resulting trusts, the Rule against Perpetuities.

Vendor-Purchaser.

This course covers the substantive law relating to a voluntary conveyance by deed including questions presented by the contract, good and marketable title and other covenants. Other matters covered are zoning, condemnation and equitable servitudes.

Cf. footnotes, pages 29 to 31.
