HIGHLIGHTS

The Maloney Library in Ghana

In mid-February, Maloney Law Library's Victor Essien participated in a Conference jointly organized by Fordham's Leitner Center and the GIMPA Law School in Accra, Ghana. The theme for the Conference was The Judiciary and its Contributions to Ghana After 60. Victor presented a paper on "Sovereignty and Subsidiarity: The Ghana Judiciary as the Bulwark Against Incipient Judicial Imperialism by African Regional Courts".

This summer Victor will teach a course on International Oil and Gas Law during the Fordham Summer Program in Accra, Ghana. Victor has previously served as an International Consultant providing contract analysis for the United Nations Center for Transnational Corporations (UNCTC) advisory services program for developing countries.

Monitor Suite

Looking for detailed analysis of trends in litigation, intellectual property, and corporate deals?

The Monitor Suite database, from Thomson Reuters (West), is a new platform that aggregates an enormous volume of legal information, including dockets and company data, and uses sophisticated analytics to zero in on patterns. The resource includes a Litigation Monitor for tracking daily developments in litigation, IP Monitor for patent and trademark filing and litigation information, Deal Monitor for a view of M&A trends and relationships, and Case Outcomes with summaries of case resolutions that could inform strategy. Monitor Suite provides opportunities to visualize this information through charts and filtered lists, and to export reports of your findings. This database is available through a Username (FordhamReferenceDesk) and Password (FordhamLibrary1). For additional information about how Monitor Suite can fit into your work, contact the Maloney reference desk or your librarian liaison.
