Collins Hall
1905-1906

The Fordham University School of Law opened on September 28, 1905 in Collins Hall on the Rose Hill Campus. During the first decade of its existence, the Law School had five different homes: Collins Hall, 42 Broadway in Lower Manhattan 1906-1908, 20 Vessey St. 1908-1911, 40 Nassau St. 1911-1915, and the Woolworth Building 1915-1943. Until 1935, however, it also maintained a presence in the evening on the Bronx Campus. The Woolworth Building, then held the distinction of being the world's tallest building and one of the most beautiful skyscrapers ever designed. In 1943, the school was moved to 302 Broadway, days which have been described as the beginning of the "Golden Era" of the faculty, which continues to this day. In 1961, Dean Mulligan guided the Law School from 302 to its present home at Lincoln Center, "in the midst of New York City, at the heart of the legal, commercial and financial capital of the world."

In 1912 the Evening Division, which was to sustain the Law School in many a troubled time, opened in spite of objections of some of the faculty. It is significant to note that from the very beginning, the same faculty members who taught in the evening also taught in the Day Division. This tradition has helped make the School's evening program one of the strongest in the nation.

Tuition when the school opened in 1905 was $100, in 1917 $125, in 1923 $180, in 1933 $200, in 1961 $1,000, in 1981 $4,900, in 1987 $10,350, and in 1996 it is $20,400 for the Day division and $15,300 for the Evening division.

William Hughes Mulligan '42, & Louis Stein '26, at the Fordham-Stein Prize Dinner

Dean William Hughes Mulligan 1918-1996

William Hughes Mulligan was a 1939 cum laude graduate of Fordham College with a bachelor of arts degree and a 1942 cum laude graduate of Fordham Law School. Mr. Mulligan joined the faculty of Fordham Law School in 1946 as a lecturer, and in 1954 was promoted to full professor. In 1956 he was named Dean and Wilkinson Professor of Law at the school, holding the position of Dean until 1971. While Dean and Wilkinson Professor, he helped organize an educational program in the field of European Community Law, one of the first in the country. He received Fordham's Bene Merenti medal for 20 years of distinguished service in 1966.

In 1971, Dean Mulligan was appointed to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit by President Nixon. He remained on the bench until 1981, when he became a partner in the New York law firm of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom. He retired from the firm in 1991. From 1982 to 1989, he served as a trustee for Fordham University and as trustee emeritus of Fordham from 1989 until his death. Fordham Law School established The William Hughes Mulligan Chair in International Studies last year in his honor.

Dean Mulligan passed away at the age of 78 on May 13, 1996.

Louis Stein 1906-1996

Louis Stein graduated from Fordham Law School in 1926 and three years later became General Counsel of Food Fair Stores, Inc. In 1953, he was elected president of the company, and in 1966 became Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, remaining in this position until his retirement in 1972.

For over forty years, Mr. Stein gave enormously of his ideas and resources to make Fordham Law School strong in areas involving ethical, moral, and service values. He created two major institutes: the Stein Institute of Law and Ethics and the Stein Center for Ethics and Public Interest Law. He also established the Stein Scholars Program, and in the early 1970's endowed an Emergency Loan Program for students in need. Mr. Stein also underwrote the early issues of the Fordham Urban Law Journal, and provided support for the School's first student lounge at the Lincoln Center campus. In addition, he created the Fordham-Stein Prize, a prestigious national award, presented annually to a lawyer whose work exemplifies outstanding standards of professional conduct, promotes the advancement of justice and brings credit to the profession.

Mr. Stein's vision and support were recognized last year when the Fordham Law Review committed to publish an annual Ethics issue and to establish a position on the editorial board for an Annual Ethics Editor. On October 25, 1995 Fordham Law School held a dedication ceremony, attended by Mr. Stein and his family, for the Louis Stein Center for Law & Ethics.

Louis Stein passed away at the age of 90 on March 1, 1996.

Louis Stein Memorial
