SUMMATION

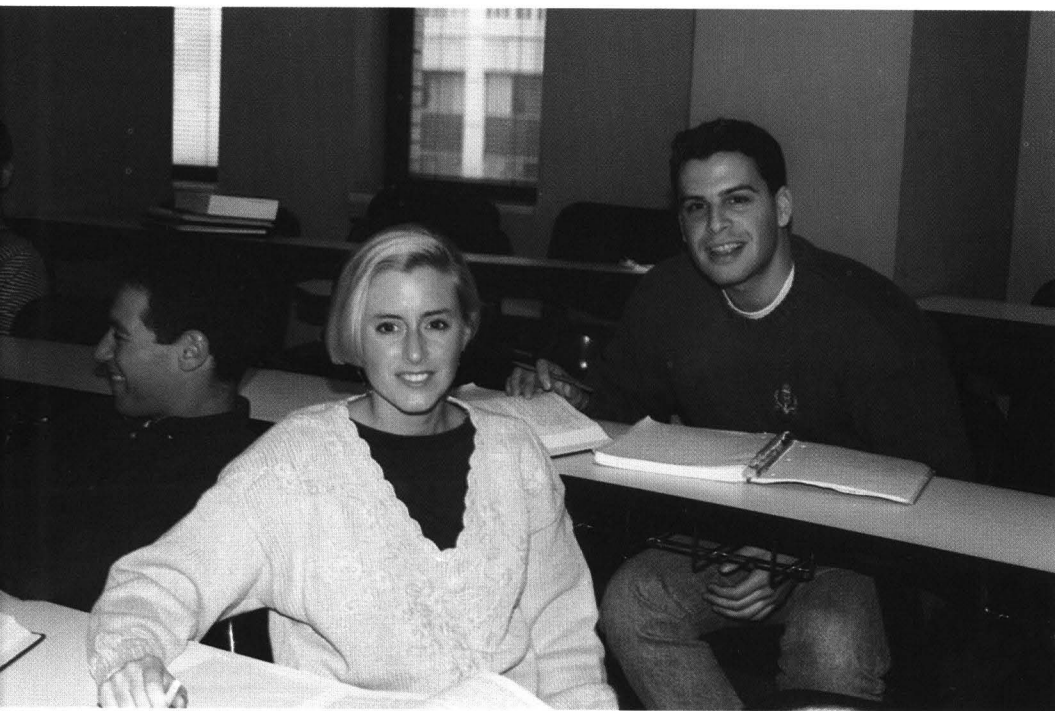

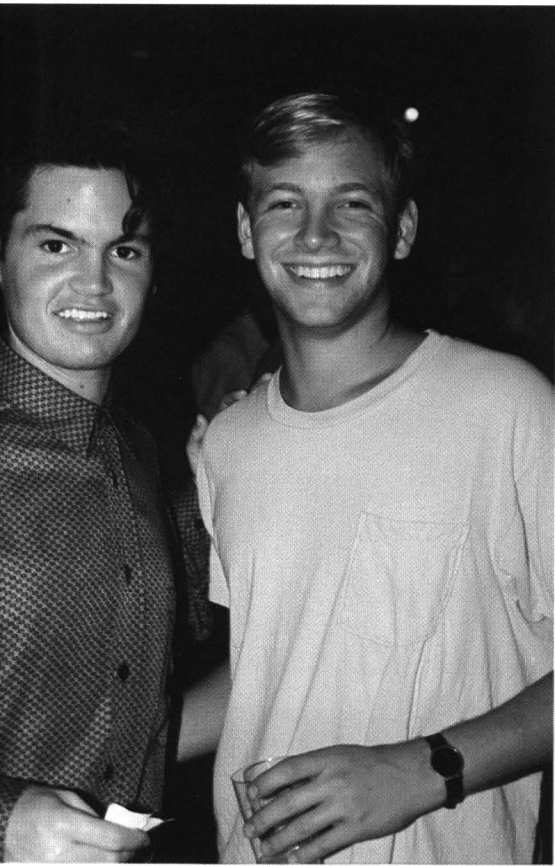

1992

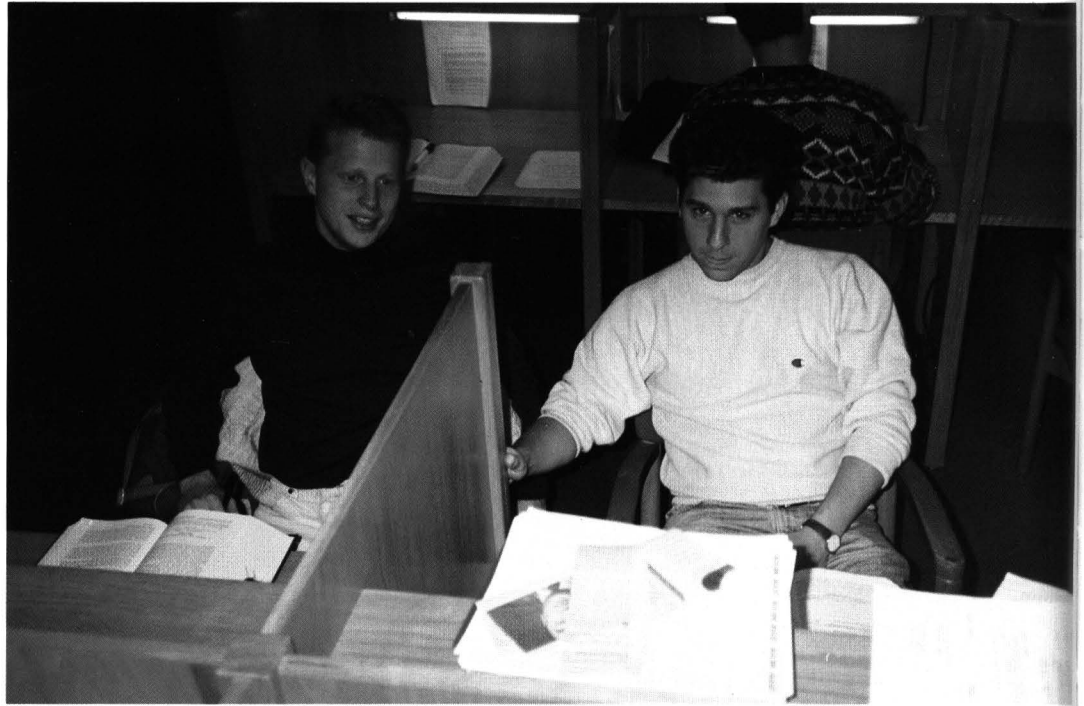

Another year has come and gone. 1991-1992 has seen many changes at Fordham Law School. The Sesquicentennial events have drawn to a close, and the University embarks on another One Hundred and Fifty years of tradition.

The tradition of Fordham continues with the construction of a dormitory for the Lincoln Center Campus due to be completed in 1993. Fordham Law School was also proud to add five new faculty members. Professor Eric Bergsten taught International Unification of Laws, Professor Victor Brudney taught Corporate Finance, Professor Deborah Denno taught Criminal Law, Professor James Fleming taught Constitutional Theory and Remedies, and Professor William Treanor taught Property.

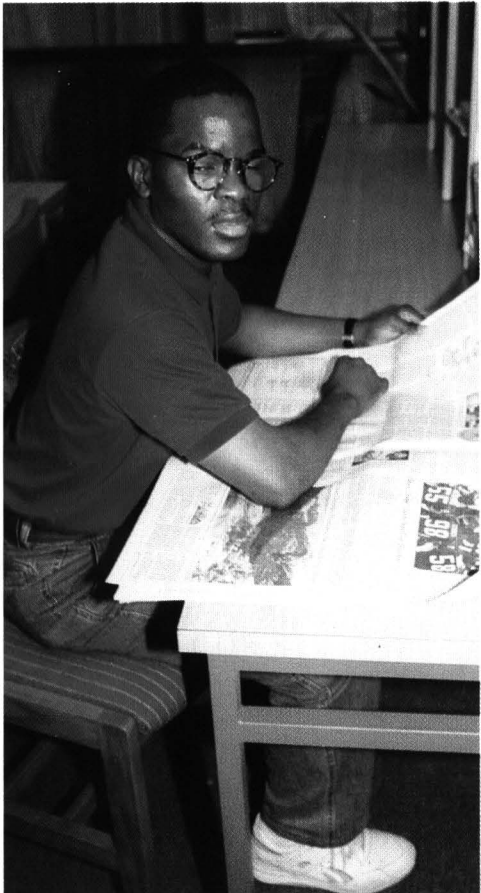

While three or four years have passed, it seems as though it was just yesterday when we first crossed the threshold into the "Legal World". "Wasn't it only last week when I was 'bluebooking' my long memo? And wasn't it only last month when I sat at orientation listening to Dean Reilly tell me that amongst these strangers sat my future spouse or my new best friend? The funniest thing is that my long memo was nothing compared to my Note and I can't imagine what the last few years would have been like without those "strangers." The walls of Fordham do much more than hold up the books and have ears, they hold many of our dearest memories within them. Looking back, many of us find that the world around us is not the only thing that has changed, the world within us has changed, too.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATES

In Memoriam

Edward J. Yorio
1947-1992

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATE

Your three or four years of intensive study of "policies" and "rules" — In the Hallowed
Halls of Fordham:

The best of all Law Schools —
From that Foundation of True Genius,
With "briefs" and "torts" acquired —
Our fledgling legal eagles
With true justice are inspired.

Fordham Law School Graduates,
For your success we pray
As you prepare for your exams
And await Graduation Day.
Abe Lincoln would be very proud,
And quite a lot surprised:
That half the Law School Graduates —
Of young ladies is comprised.

On the twenty-first of May
In Avery Fisher Hall,
As you receive your prized diplomas,
"Good luck", I wish you all.
In this graduating class:
A future President?
Quite possible, I do declare:
You — to Fordham Law School — went!

We thank you John D. Feerick,
The School's illustrious Dean —
Whose parents came from Mayo —
In the Isle of Emerald Green.
We thank you, learned Faculty —
Today, and times gone by,
Secretaries, and all the staff,
Who keep Fordham's credit high!

— Luke Carolan
