Dear John:

Thank you for your good letter.

I shall conform to the policy which has been established, i.e., to seek to persuade Congress in this session to propose a constitutional amendment substantially as recommended by the special ABA group.

However, once this has been proposed so that it is on its way to the States for ratification, I sincerely hope that we may then have your support for the enactment of an interim statute. The time period required for ratification should not continue this serious void which can become critical in regard to continuity of Presidential executive authority at any moment.

It was a pleasure to have met you and a privilege to hear your learned views on this whole subject.

With best personal regards,

Louis C. Wyman, M.C.
