Re: Pulaski Day Parade
Sunday, October 7, 1984

The Pulaski Day Parade, which you have attended for the last four years, honors the Polish Revolutionary War general. It is the annual Polish parade in New York. It starts at 1:00 PM at 26th Street and 5th Avenue.

The motorcade will drop you at 42nd Street and 5th Avenue. You will walk to the reviewing stand in front of the Public Library. You will watch the parade from approximately 1:35 PM through 2:00 PM.

Among those who will be on the reviewing stand are US Senator D'Amato, Congressmen Green and Guarini, State Comptroller Edward Regan, the five borough presidents--Anthony Gaeta (Staten Island), Howard Golden (Brooklyn), Donald Manes (Queens), Stanley Simon (Bronx), Andrew Stein (Manhattan)--and Harrison Goldin, New York City Comptroller.

Attached is a list of other dignitaries who will be on the reviewing stand.

Bill Shibilski, a local disk jockey, will announce the units. No dignitaries will speak.

Mayor Koch will be marching in the parade. When he arrives at the reviewing stand, he will stop and give brief remarks. If you have not yet arrived, Mayor Koch may wait for you briefly before giving his remarks. This has not yet been decided. You are not expected to make any remarks.

When you leave the parade, you will go home.
