WASHINGTON OFFICE

Dear Mrs. Ferraro

We are very proud of you! As an Italian and woman, I admire you immensely. Ever since I read the article in Time magazine on you and Mrs. Feinstein, I began taking a real interest in the Presidential Campaign. I rejoiced with you when you were nominated for Vice-President and I have suffered with you in these past days as you were so cruelly attacked by the American newspapers. As an European I was more shocked by what President Reagan said about bombing the Soviet Union (how can one joke on such a deadly subject, knowing how sensitive and dangerous the Russians can be) than by your family's financial situation.

But you have come through the ordeal of fire unscathed.
Not only, but you have more than proved that

You are worthy of your nomination. How proud your Mother must be, she who sacrificed so much to give you this chance! And how your Father would have gloried in you!

At last the Italo-American image has taken on dignity and importance and all to your merit. I assure you that if you were running for President and Mr. Mondale for Vice-President you would be sure to win the campaign!

Thank you Mrs. Ferraro for your splendid work, for your courage and integrity. American and,
in a more modest way,
Italy can be proud of you.

Yours sincerely and in admiration
