Dear Geraldine,

I am not in the habit of writing fan mail - in fact I'm not even sure where to send this letter - but I want you to know how sorry I am that you were not elected. There are many Canadians, both men and women who were really hoping that you and Mondale would win the election.

I am a kindergarten teacher and in my spare time I am involved with both Christian education and peace and justice work for the United Church. As a woman, a Christian activist and a peace worker, I applaud the stand you took on many issues. On your debate with Bush - there was no doubt that you won - hands down! I also appreciate the fine way you handled the prying into your personal affairs!

I was terribly depressed when I heard the election results. How can the American people be so incredibly stupid!?

Hang in there Geraldine! Next time run for President! You might

Let there be peace on earth, make it.
And let it begin with me.

- Sy Miller & Jill Jackson

Shalom!

P.S. My husband thinks you
great tho
