ON JUSTICE IN SOCIETY. By Morris Ginsberg. Baltimore: Penguin Books. 1965. Pp. 248. $1.25 paperbound. A philosophical discussion by a leading British sociologist, analyzing justice in terms of the differences between individuals that justify different treatment.

- POLITICAL AUTHORITY AND MORAL JUDGMENT. By Glen Negley. Durham: Duke University Press. 1965. Pp. 163. $5.00. The author maintains that imprecise language and a bias in favor of individualism and subjectivism have prevented contemporary political science from accurately assessing the role of institutions in society.
- POLITICS AND THE BUSINESSMAN. By David J. Galligan. New York, Toronto, and London: Pitman Publishing Co. 1964. Pp. xix, 126. $3.50 clothbound, $1.50 paperbound. This work presents the case for the businessman's participation in politics and describes the workings of a nonpartisan political education group in New Jersey.
- POLITICS IN NEW YORK STATE, 1800-1830. By Alvin Kass. Syracuse: Syracuse University Press. 1965. Pp. xii, 221. $4.95. The democratization of New York politics in the period under discussion is found to have been more the result of politicians' opportunism than of political ideology.
- THE PUBLIC PAYS: A STUDY OF POWER PROPAGANDA. By Ernest Gruening. New York: Vanguard Press, Inc. 1964. Pp. xlviii, 273. $2.25 paperbound. A new and enlarged edition of a book first published in 1931, based upon the FPC investigation of the private utilities' publicity campaign against public power projects.
- PUBLIC SCHOOL FINANCE: ECONOMICS AND POLITICS. By Jesse Burkhead. Syracuse: Syracuse University Press. 1964. Pp. xii, 394. $8.75. The author, an economist specializing in public administration, contends that increased expenditures on public education would save money in the long run by reducing social service expenditures.
- SEX AND CRIME. By Clinton T. Duffy with Al Hirschberg. Garden City: Doubleday & Co. 1965. Pp. 203. $4.50. The warden of San Quentin argues that most crime has a sexual basis and that our penal system must be modified to deal with this factor.
- SOCIETY ON TRIAL: CURRENT COURT DECISIONS AND SOCIAL CHANGE. By Warren Freedman. Springfield, Illinois: Charles C Thomas. 1965. Pp. xvii, 302. $10.00. Essays on twelve social-legal questions, including the M'Naghten Rule, censorship, religious freedom and wiretapping.
