THE HONORABLE
WILLIAM HUGHES MULLIGAN

Class of 1942

WILLIAM HUGHES MULLIGAN was a beloved and valued member of the Fordham community. As a professor, dean, judge, and practitioner, he made a profound mark on the law and on those around him.

Judge Mulligan graduated from Fordham College in 1939, and from Fordham Law School in 1942, where he was an Editor of the Fordham Law Review. After serving in the Army during World War II, Judge Mulligan returned to Fordham Law School as a member of the faculty. As Dean John Feerick once noted, Judge Mulligan “taught practically every course in the curriculum, including criminal law, procedure, equity, trade regulation and insurance law.”<sup>1</sup>

In 1956, he was named Dean and Wilkinson Professor of Law at Fordham Law School. He recruited a stellar faculty, and planned and launched Fordham’s move to its present Lincoln Center campus. He served as counsel to the 1967 New York State Constitutional Convention, and as Chair of the State Commission on Reapportionment of the Legislature.

In 1971 Judge Mulligan was appointed to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit by President Richard Nixon. After a decade of distinguished service on the federal bench, he stepped down and became a partner at the law firm of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom. Judge Mulligan also served as a director of Catholic Charities for the Archdiocese of New York between 1985 and 1991.

Judge Mulligan’s career was marked by numerous awards and distinctions, including: the New York Bar Association Gold Medal in 1982; the American Jewish Committee’s Learned Hand Human Relations Award in 1986; and the 1990 Fordham-Stein Prize. In 1995, Fordham established an endowed academic chair in International Legal Studies, named in his honor, to bring distinguished visiting professors from around the world to teach at the law school. The alumni of the law school also have established a scholarship in his name. In addition, Fordham Law School's annual Constitutional Criminal Law Moot Court Competition continues to bear his name.

As the following remarks attest, Judge Mulligan was a man of tireless devotion—to his alma mater, his profession, his church, and his family. It is no small wonder that he leaves behind so many lives touched by him. We at the Fordham Law Review are honored to have had him as “one of our own,” and, in recognition of his enduring legacy, are proud to dedicate the October 1996 Issue to his memory.
