To navigate back, click the desired breadcrumb at the top of the page

Searching the Collection

Searching from a collection page: Enter your search term in the search box. From the drop-down menu below, select the scope of your search: this collection; this repository [FLASH]; or across all [Digital Commons] repositories. Click Search.

Boolean operators AND, OR, NOT (in upper case) are supported.

This screenshot is similar to the first one, but the search dropdown menu is open, showing options: "in this collection", "in this collection", "in this repository", and "across all repositories". The breadcrumb trail is "Home > A2I = A2J > Parole Information Project". The rest of the page layout, including the navigation bar, search box, and main content area, is identical to the first screenshot.

Note that when searching from one of the project's sub-collections (e.g., COMPAS Risk Assessment), the first scope option will change from "collection" to "series".

This means that your search will be limited to that sub-collection/series.

Below the header is a search bar with the text "Enter search terms:" and a "Search" button. A dropdown menu is open, showing four options: "in this series" (highlighted in green), "in this series", "in this repository", and "across all repositories".

To the left of the main content area is a sidebar with two sections: "Browse" and "Links". Under "Browse", there are links for "Collections", "Subjects", "Authors", and "Fordham Law Authors". Under "Links", there are links for "Law Library" and "Law School".

The main content area features a breadcrumb trail: "Home > A2I = A2J > Parole Information Project > Parole File Documents > Parole Board Reports". Below this is the "A2J Initiative at Fordham Law School" logo, which includes a red scale of justice icon. To the right of the logo is the tagline "Access to Information = Access to Justice".
